

John D Plane 'Disgrace' Says Tory

(By CP, UPI)

VANCOUVER—An RCAF Comet jetliner, turned back twice in recent months by mechanical trouble, will take Prime Minister Diefenbaker on the final leg today of his flight to a state visit to Japan.

Forced back to Sea Island base here yesterday, the plane was repaired quickly and left in pursuit of another plane carrying the Diefenbaker party. But connections were missed at Anchorage, Alaska, the first stop.

The Comet chased the other plane to Shemya in the Aleutians, where they were to meet at 12:20 a.m. today. It will complete the North Pacific journey today, with departure shortly before dawn.

UPPER ECHELON

The troubles caused a Progressive Conservative MP to call the RCAF "inept" and "a disgrace to our nation." In a telegram to Defence Minister Harkness, William Payne, member for Coast-Capilano, suggested "immediate and severe action" was required in the RCAF's "upper echelon."

"Return trip arrangements must be reviewed to be made safe and dignified," he said. The Comet was forced back shortly after takeoff because of a valve malfunction in an undercarriage door. The party later flew to Anchorage in an RCAF Cosmopolitan freight-passenger plane.

EARLIER PROBLEM

The Comet was the same plane forced to return to Gander, Nfld., last month with engine trouble while taking Finance Minister Fleming and Trade Minister Hees to Ghana. The British-made Comet was just 10 minutes out of Vancouver when a red light showed an undercarriage door to be closed improperly.

Wing Cmdr. James Borden, aircraft commander, ordered

10 tons of fuel jettisoned over the Pacific before the plane returned.

Waiting at Anchorage to fly the party to Shemya was the RCAF's luxury C-3 transport, diverted here from Whitehorse.

With all the delays and switches, Mr. Diefenbaker will be at least 14 hours late for his arrival in Japan, which now will take place late today. (See Page 15.)

Robarts New Leader Of Ontario Tories

TORONTO (CP) — John Robarts, 44-year-old London lawyer, last night was elected leader of the Ontario Progressive Conservative party in a fight that went right to the sixth and final ballot.

Mr. Robarts was presented to the 4,000 cheering delegates and public in Varsity Arena by Premier Leslie Frost.

Mr. Frost, mobbed by reporters to comment on a report that he might resign the premiership early next week, said:

"That is a matter I will have to discuss with him. The

Radiation Count Soars in Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP) — The level of radiation has reached the highest peak ever recorded, a University of B.C. physicist said yesterday.

Dr. G. M. Griffiths, who measures beta activity in rainfall, said the level was 15,000 counts a minute yesterday.

The highest level he ever recorded was 11,000 counts a minute after U.S. H-bomb tests in the Pacific.

Dr. Griffiths said readings were down to 20 to 40 counts a minute during the summer and rose to 2,000 to 5,000 counts a minute in late September when the Russians began testing.

No Danger From Milk Canada Told

OTTAWA (CP) — Health Minister Monteith in a statement released by his office here yesterday, said fallout from Russian nuclear bomb tests has not contaminated Canada's fresh milk supplies.

"In view of public concern about fallout, I want to emphasize that current supplies of fluid milk are safe for human consumption," the minister's statement said.

STOP BIG BOMB APPEAL WINS STRONG UN VOTE

No Cause For Fear —Expert

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. A. H. Zimmerman, chairman of the Defence Research Board, said yesterday there is no real cause for worry in Canada over fallout from current Russian nuclear tests even if the Soviet Union sets off a 50-megaton bomb.

"I don't want to gloss over the seriousness of the matter but as yet there is no real cause for worry in Canada," Dr. Zimmerman said.

CHIEF SCIENTIST
"I am not alarmed personally," Canada's chief defence scientist said.

He said all radioactive fallout is "bad" and the situation could become worse if testing continued for a long time.

"But fallout has not yet reached levels where there is need to worry," he said.

Soviet delegate Tsarapkin seen in various poses in the UN yesterday as he tried to block action on H-bomb tests.

Mongolia, Mauritania Win UN Membership

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—The Security Council approved UN membership for Outer Mongolia and Mauritania Wednesday, breaking a deadlock that had endangered Nationalist China's seat in the United Nations.

Nationalist China had threatened to veto Outer Mongolia. In turn, the Soviet Union threatened to veto Mauritania. But both lifted their veto threats, sending the membership applications of the two small countries to the General Assembly, where final approval is assured. They will become the 102nd and 103rd UN members.

GRAND FORKS (CP)—A 23-year-old Prince George man, unable to live without the girl he loved, took his own life, a coroner's inquiry found yesterday.

Greta Hermackin, 20, a Doukhobor girl, who was to have married Donald Morris, died Oct. 1 in a car crash near here.

Morris' body was found in a car here Monday. Police said a note indicated that after the highway accident he had no desire to live. He died of a gunshot wound.

Morris asked that he be buried next to Miss Hermackin in the Doukhobor cemetery here.

John Verigin, spiritual leader of the religious sect, said that although the request was unusual it was not the first time a Doukhobor had been buried in a Doukhobor plot.

RETALIATION THREAT
These 12 warned they would retaliate against a Nationalist veto of Mongolia by voting for Communist China when debate on seating Communist China comes up.

New Bonds In Demand

OTTAWA (UPI)—Finance Minister Donald Fleming yesterday announced that sales of 1961 series of Canada Savings Bonds in the first 11 business days of the issue were 5.7 per cent higher than in the same period last year.

We're Very Pleased We Won Out—Green

OTTAWA (CP) — Acting Prime Minister Green expressed pleasure Wednesday that a United Nations committee voted over Soviet objections to give priority to a Canadian resolution demanding immediate cancellation of Russia's 50-megaton nuclear bomb blast.

"We're very pleased that we have won out," Mr. Green said in an interview. "We're through the red tape and the procedural debate now."

NEW URGENCY

The external affairs minister, acting prime minister in the absence of Prime Minister Diefenbaker, said new urgency was given to the Canadian resolution by Russia's action early Wednesday in exploding another nuclear device—the 24th one reported—in the Soviet Arctic.

"They said they were undertaking a series of tests ending with a 50-megaton bomb at the end of the month, and it looks as though that is what they are doing by letting off a smaller one this week," Mr. Green said.

Informed quarters here, however, were not overly confident that Russia will abide by the resolution in the end.

Punch Pays Off

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP) — The Rhodesian who punched G. Mennen Williams, U.S. assistant secretary for African affairs, at Lusaka airport last August has received about $2,000 ($5,600), mainly from Americans, his wife said Wednesday.

Stuart Finley-Bissett was fined $50 ($140) Sept. 12 for assaulting Williams.

Gremlin-infested De Havilland Comet which yesterday forced transfer of Prime Minister Diefenbaker to another plane while ground crews coped with the latest in its history of malfunctions.

Keenleyside Hits At Axed Orchards

Mayor At War With Law

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE (CP)—Mayor Lloyd Henderson, angered at what he has described as a "light" sentence given a man who pleaded guilty to indecent assault on Mrs. Henderson, has threatened to "lock the courtroom chambers and have the sheriff move all the magistrate's staff out."

If Magistrate H. D. Sparling is not removed from his post, Mayor Henderson conceded that he could not stop Magistrate Sparling from hearing provincial cases, but claimed he has the power to suspend the magistrate for hearing city cases because the Portage La Prairie council pays the magistrate's salary.

MONTREAL (UPI)—A plea against "Los Angelesization" of the Canadian countryside was made yesterday by Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, chairman of the British Columbia Power Commission, at a workshop session of the Resources for Tomorrow conference.

"Surely Canadian civilization can offer something less appalling than this," Keenleyside said. "The orchards of the Okanagan Valley are being chopped down to make way for housing developments. Is this consistent with increasing requirements for food supplies?"

MAJOR PROBLEM

Keenleyside called for "objective, long-range thinking" on the perspectives and plans for future resource development. He said a major problem was the division of legislative powers between the provinces and the federal government, with no provision for "resolution of conflicts."

"With the exception of agriculture — which is unique in having a built-in imperative for conflict resolution — jurisdiction for resource development is exclusively assigned either to the federal or provincial governments," he said. This often leads to conflicts.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

VICTORIA'S city fathers are afraid that the government is going to give them the B.C. Electric buses.

They wouldn't mind at all if the government threatened to give them a road, or a bridge, but the idea of a gift fleet of buses throws them into a panic.

But one day the worst may happen. Victoria may look out her door to find a whole parcel of orphan buses there, squalling for gas, service and drivers' wages.

Several members of city council dread this possibility. They are haunted by the nightmare of becoming keepers of a herd of white elephants on wheels.

Would the gift of a bus line really be such a disaster?

We need buses just as much as we need roads and bridges. If the buses are wisely managed, they can help the city grow in a neat and orderly fashion—by channelling people towards the areas that should be developed.

The buses can pay their way manyfold in increased tax revenues, even though their books may show a loss.

This will take time. If the provincial government plans to dump the buses on Victoria's (and Vancouver's) doorstep, it should pack a subsidy in the basket as well.

At the same time it might encourage the municipalities of Greater Victoria toward amalgamation or some kind of federal union—and bang their heads gently together if they act too coy about it.

Only a united capital region can plan its future properly for the public good. And only a united capital region (as Aid. Geoffrey Edgell recently said) can give those orphan buses a good home.

"There's a lot of human energy going to waste," said a welfare worker.

"Most people on unemployment insurance or social assistance would like to do some work, if only for exercise. The average man on relief would be delighted to perform some task that made him feel useful.

"Suppose you said to him: 'There's something you can do to benefit the community, if you feel inclined. Just visit the energy building and put in some time charging the batteries.

"All you have to do is walk up a big moving staircase that turns an electrical generator. You can meet your friends there, spend as much or as little time walking as you please.

"The energy you put out to climb the stairs will be stored in batteries for use later on. The batteries will be installed in electrically driven buses and garbage trucks to serve the town.

"There would be no stigma attached to this kind of work. Not only the unemployed, but businessmen and clerks who were getting out of condition would be invited to spend an hour or two on the moving stairs, walking off their fat.

"The energy bank could become a popular meeting-place. There's only one snag, though," my friend the welfare worker said. "I understand the average man's output of energy for one day would barely be enough to light a small bulb.

"But I think we should find a way to use that energy, for the benefit of the unemployed. They would welcome it, as a relief from boredom. After all, doing nothing is hard work."

Your Good Health

Black-Eyed 'Beauty' Overdoes the Dye

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it harmful to apply cosmetic paint (eye liner) to the lower inner part, above the lower layer of lashes, on the moist membrane?

When I put it on that area, even though the black liner gets into the eye, I don't feel it. But I notice that if I cough up phlegm in the morning, or if I have a cold or runny nose, I can see strands of this black liner in the mucus.—Bunny.

Part of the answer lies in the fact you are getting the color into the moist membrane of the eye; the system keeps them that way. Eyes are constantly lubricated with a film of moisture.

So where does this moisture go? Any excess, unless you cry, drains gradually into the nose and then to the throat. You don't feel a "foreign body" in the eye because the dark color is a dye, not a gritty, sharp particle.

I don't know of any reason why the dye would be harmful except to the occasional person who may be allergic to it. But why use so much? I'm not impressed with the "beauty" of eyes that look like the lid of a shoe polish can.

Dear Dr. Molner: I wear a hearing aid. When I yawn, something opens up and I hear all the noises around. Do you think an operation letting sound waves reach the inner ear would help?—G.E.W.

The question isn't as easy as you might think. Obviously your trouble is not due completely to any defect in the nerve.

However, whether one of the various possible ear operations will help depends on where and how the sound waves are being interrupted. Consult an ear surgeon.

Dear Dr. Molner: Are wine-laden wines, I do not mean sweet wines, but such wines as chablis, chateau, burgundy, muscatel red and white wines, should a person who is trying to lose weight avoid wine and beer? What is the correct weight for a woman of 50 with a heavy to medium frame and height of five feet, six inches?—L.F.

Wines, sweet or dry, contain alcohol. The sweet ones contain more sugar but the alcohol itself yields calories. The answer is: for reducing, avoid alcohol, including wine and beer.

Charts vary but weight for women of five feet six inches, with shoes on, should range from 130 pounds (medium frame) to 150 (heavy frame).

Upswing Continues

Job Picture in B.C. Best in Two Years

A continuing upswing in B.C.'s economy is reflected in the province's unemployment figures, according to figures issued yesterday by the trade department.

The department said B.C.'s unemployment total in September was the lowest in relation to the total provincial work force since mid-1959.

Retail and factory sales still are below 1960 figures but construction, fisheries and the forest industry show increases. There were 31,000 employed in B.C. in September, 5.3 per cent of the total labor force.

Special to the Colonist

OTTAWA—Government butter stocks are at an all-time high and agriculture officials are desperately seeking a program in co-operation with provincial milk boards to solve over-production in the dairy industry.

Agriculture Minister Hamilton has already said a decrease in the price of butter was one move in the works.

"We must reduce the incentives to dairymen to increase fluid production if we are ever going to solve this problem," one spokesman said yesterday. "We are working on a long-term solution to reduce production and increase consumption."

About 200,000,000 pounds of butter and butter oil now are held in storage by the federal government, approximately 40,000,000 pounds more than at this time last year.

The Liberals sold some surplus butter behind the Iron Curtain, but this brought an avalanche of vigorous protests from housewives in Canada.

Anti-Fallout Measures

World Awaits 'Deluge'

New Blast Set Off By Reds

LONDON (Reuters) — The non-Communist world prepared anti-radioactivity measures Wednesday as Russia was reported to have triggered still another nuclear blast.

Unparalleled precautions, such as distribution of calcium in Scandinavia, were being proposed as protests mounted against the current Soviet tests.

ARCTIC EXPLOSION

The latest blast was reported to have taken place in the Novaya Zemlya region of the Soviet Arctic at about 3:31 a.m. Prevailing winds were expected to carry any fallout toward Siberia initially. Western Canada or Alaska was expected to get some of it late Friday.

THREE-MEGATON FORCE. The explosion was first reported at Uppsala, Sweden, where Monday's blast of at least 30 megatons was first detected. Scientists at Uppsala's meteorological institute said it was of about three megaton force.

The United States Atomic Energy Commission confirmed Wednesday's blast, but said its force was probably less than a megaton (equivalent of 1,000,000 tons of TNT).

TABLETS PROPOSED

Communist John Takman, a member of Stockholm's city council, proposed distribution of calcium tablets to all children in the Swedish city to limit strontium-90, a radioactive product of fallout, in city council will consider the proposal.

CALCIUM MEASURE

Norwegians may soon get extra calcium in bread as protection against strontium-90. The Norwegian government council for radioactive hygiene has considered the measure among others.

PROTESTS GROW

There were numerous fresh protests against the current Soviet tests, believed to number at least 24 since they began Sept. 1. In Britain, where plans have been made to supply children with dried milk if fresh milk gets dangerously radioactive, the Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament reported a spurt in membership applications.

TITO CONCERNED

President Tito of Yugoslavia said in Belgrade he was "deeply concerned" about Russian plans to detonate a 50-megaton bomb. In Tokyo, Japan protested to Russia in a verbal note against Monday's blast and said no possible explanation could justify it.

Map shows path of radioactive fallout from Russia's Oct. 23 blast over the Novaya Zemlya region in the Arctic. Fallout passed over parts of Japan yesterday and headed eastward over the Pacific Ocean. (AP Photofax)

'Serious Development'

Berlin Reds Reject U.S. Army Protest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States announced last night it will "urgently" take up with Russia the latest Communist travel restrictions across the Berlin border.

State department spokesman Lincoln White said a protest made to the Soviet Berlin commandant yesterday by Maj. Gen. Albert Watson, U.S. commandant in Berlin, was rejected by the Russian official.

SERIOUS MATTER

"We regard this as a serious development," White said, "and are taking it up urgently with the governments concerned."

White said this meant taking up the issue "primarily with the Soviet Union but also with our allies."

The implication was of a strong U.S. protest at a higher level than the military command level in Berlin, possibly to the Soviet foreign office in Moscow. White said he could give no details how it might be handled.

Watson today protested to Soviet Commandant Col. A. V. Solov'yev against new Communist rules requiring American officials entering East Berlin to show identification.

THRUST MADE

The entire 6,500-man U.S. garrison in Berlin was on alert for six hours yesterday when U.S. military police made an armed thrust into East Berlin to enforce the right of occupation forces to move freely in the divided city.

'Needles' Project A Flop?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Air Force can't find the 350,000,000 copper needles it thought it had released into space from an orbiting satellite.

It announced Wednesday night that its Lincoln Laboratories, in charge of "Project West Ford," reported that no radar contact has yet been established with the mass of minute needles called dipoles.

ASTRONOMERS GLAD While this was discouraging to those conducting the test, it was happy news for astronomers and others who had protested that the belt of hair-like needles might interfere with their studies.

The idea is to use the belt of needles for bouncing radio signals back to earth.

SEARCH CONTINUED

The air force announcement said: "A continuing radar search is being made for the dipole fibres."

A Midas satellite carried a load of the dipoles aloft last Saturday in a launching from Point Arguello, Calif.

Police Sell Murder Case Exhibit

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — The oldest untold murder case in Houston had to be postponed again yesterday because the police department goofed. It has sold the evidence.

Mrs. Lillian Margaret Lester is accused of killing her husband more than three years ago with a .22-calibre rifle. Police had the rifle.

But when the case came up, red-faced officials admitted the gun had been sold at an auction last August. Capt. Weldon Waycott said a ballistics test was inconclusive in proving that the gun was the murder weapon but the defence would certainly insist it be produced at the trial.

They Fail

A few days ago we on the west coast were treated to a three-hour show on anti-communism. Really, we in Canada do not like communism either, but rather than outlaws it we invite the Reds to compete and they do, every election, and fail miserably.

As for not selling our surplus wheat to China, well now, would the U.S. buy it? No, because they have the same problem. Our economic survival depends on our foreign markets and until the UN forces an embargo we are within our rights.

The Americans, after being late to enter two world wars are now attempting to reverse their role. Perhaps they will see now how difficult it is in times of peace to interest people in fighting.

H. F. LEGGETT.

3155 Shelbourne Street.

Civic Centre

It made very interesting reading in your newspaper to learn that there is being considered the beautifying of the area from Blanshard Street to the Cathedral, bounded by Burdett and Fort streets.

At present the view of the Cathedral looking up Broughton Street is inspiring, one can visualize how very beautiful it will be to have that whole area restricted to buildings conforming to the architectural stature of the Cathedral, and sufficient ground left for a park where people of all ages and interests, may sit and enjoy an atmosphere of peace and beauty.

The more publicity given to this project the greater the number of people who will become conscious of the possibilities of a Civic Centre to be proud of.

(Miss) E. S. MCGILLIVRAY.

349 Cook Street.

One Number

It is reported there will be some adjustments in the bus system come the end of November. May one suggest that we revert to the one number per bus so the number could be put on the back of the bus as before.

Obviously, the transit planners have never struggled through a mass of people at rush hour, or panted down a line of buses peering at the front to see if it is the one they want—and usually it isn't. Or have they ever watched a bus pull out with no way of knowing if it is theirs or not because there is no longer an identifying number on the back?

Double numbers only add to the confusion and are not necessary. No. 7, for instance, was Hillside-Fairfield and riders knew enough not to board a northbound bus if they were going to Fairfield and vice versa. Return to one number per bus so it can be duplicated on the back where it is needed just as much as on the front.

(Mrs.) EVELYN MACKENZIE.

121 Menzies Street.

Civil Defence

It is inconceivable that two such brilliant and otherwise well-informed citizens as Dr. Brock Chisholm and Dr. Hugh Kenney could be so hopelessly misinformed as to the nature and purpose of civil defence. According to these eminent gentlemen it is "immoral" to plan protection for our children, and the prime objective of civil defence personnel is to save their own skins. Conceding that life in a bomb-ravaged world would be, to most elderly persons, quite intolerable, it is to our younger generations that we owe our greatest responsibility. Surely they are worth some kind of a plan, however imperfect, for their protection against disaster, whether it be natural or man-made.

It would seem that all Canadians, regardless of age or impediment, who have a genuine concern for posterity and the survival of our nation, could at least contribute a minimum of interest to the efforts of civil defence. We cannot afford to do less.

(Mrs.) MARY CRAIG.

Member, Greater Victoria Civil Defence.

2079 Orillia Street.

Public Service

Banking is a public service. A strike against a bank would be a strike against the public. Our free-contractual complex is so tightly interwoven that any disruption of our banking system would create incalculable ripples in our daily lives.

I suggest, very seriously, that a strike of our banking system would create more confusion than if Russia's 50-megaton bomb were dropped smack dab in the middle of Ottawa.

I welcome the new "service" approach of the Bank Employees' Association reported recently. May I remind you, however, that the BEA is an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor and claims the right to strike against a bank in Canada.

Until such time as the BEA divorces itself from any claim to strike may I request you give attention to this factor when reporting the activities of the BEA.

UBC Entrance Level Raised for '62 Term

VANCOUVER (CP)—Stiffer entrance requirements will be introduced at the University of British Columbia next term.

University president Dr. Norman MacKenzie said yesterday the new regulations will take effect at the start of the 1962-63 term.

He said too many students are entering with minimum requirements and are unable to handle the work.

NEW RULING

Under the new ruling students who have to write supplementary high school examinations in August will not be allowed into UBC the following September.

Students who take senior matriculation at high school will not be admitted unless they pass at least three of five subjects at June exams conducted by the department of education.

ENTRY GRANTED

In the case of students from outside B.C., entry will be granted only if they have senior matriculation and if they meet entrance requirements of the university in their own country or province.

If senior matriculation is not offered in their province, consideration will be given to entry with junior matriculation or other qualifications.

Dr. MacKenzie said surveys have shown that of students who have to write supplementary exams, about 85 per cent fail their first year at university and less than two per cent pass all subjects.

Canadian Pay Outpaces Health, Welfare Costs

PORT WILLIAM, Ont. (CP)—

The average Canadian is substantially ahead in take-home pay despite a three-fold increase in government health and social welfare expenditures paid out of taxes, Postmaster General Hamilton said Tuesday.

He said average income after taxes in 1948 was $1,140, and $63 was being spent on health and welfare. Since then, expenditures on health and welfare rose to $185 and average incomes to $1,408.

New Bursary Of $1,000 Offered

A new, $1,000 bursary for graduates of Victoria University and the University of British Columbia was announced yesterday by Welfare Minister Wesley Black.

The annual award will be made to a student who wishes to take a further university course in social work.

Gaglardi Won't Quit In Middle of a Fight

VANCOUVER (CP)—Highways Minister Gaglardi said today he has no intention of quitting the government.

"That's all right so long as I know I don't want to be taped on anything off-the-record again. Once you've been betrayed, you're careful."

The minister told the Automobile Retailers' Association: "No one who comes up in the hard way ever gives up in the middle of a fight. I don't give up easily and I'm not quitting anything."

He began a talk on world trade by asking if the press Kamloops traffic summons.

Prince Saved By Stalin Dies Aged 91

HOLLYWOOD — Prince Nestor Erbstoff, cousin of Russian Czar Nicholas II, died in a sanitarium at the age of 91.

Friends said the prince often recalled he owed his escape from Russia after the 1917 revolution to a fellow Georgian, Joseph Vissarionovich Djughashvili, whose revolutionary name was Stalin.

During pre-revolutionary days the prince, a liberal minded member of the ruling family of the former Czarist principality of Georgia, hid Stalin from Czarist police.

After the revolution, the

Keen Police 'Arrest' Own Chief

COPENHAGEN (Reuters) — Red-faced Copenhagen policemen had some talk explaining to do here yesterday.

A police officer was questioning a suspected burglar in his second floor office Tuesday night when the man made a dive for the door and got away.

ALARM SOUNDED — The officer pressed an alarm bell to warn constables in the police station below to intercept the suspect.

The eager constables rushed out, grabbed the first man who came racing down the stairs, and hustled him into a cell over his violent protests.

MAN ESCAPES — Sometime later they found out that the man they "arrested" was their superior officer, who had set out in pursuit of the suspect after giving the alarm.

The suspect hasn't been seen since.

Two Ks Must Make War Impossible

Gromyko Offers New Olive Branch to U.S.

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko said Wednesday he and U.S. Secretary of State Rusk agreed at their recent talks in New York and Washington that the two countries should find a way to make war impossible.

Gromyko, speaking to the Soviet Communist party congress, offered a new olive branch to the West by saying his country would seek to take into consideration the West's point of view at the negotiating table if the West really seeks understanding.

Premier Khrushchev "must take account of the interests of the other parties to which war becomes impossible negotiations when they really seek an understanding." He told the congress Soviet foreign policy is marked by its flexibility and its striving for an understanding.

Li-Col. William Mathers has been named by the provincial government to head the new, enlarged civil defence scheme encompassing 11 southern Vancouver Island municipalities.

He will be responsible for co-ordination of municipal planning and liaison with army target area headquarters now being established at Duncan.

OPERATIONS MAN

James Dean Somerville of Vancouver, an ex-RCAF officer, has been appointed target area operations officer to work under the co-ordinator.

Li-Col. Mathers, a native of New Westminster, joined the regular army in 1935 and during the war commanded the Royal Canadian Regiment in Italy. Since then he has held staff positions at B.C. area headquarters and army headquarters, Ottawa.

Now on retirement leave, he lives with his wife and three children at 20 Sylvan Lane, Trescow, co-ordinator for Victoria. His appointment carries a salary of $400 a month. He will communicate with the provincial government through the appointments won't at Li-Col. Mathers.

Rare Swan Seen

A rare trumpeter swan has been spotted among a flock of whistling swans feeding near Courtenay.

The swans, which number about 1,000, were for some years thought to be becoming extinct. But Provincial Museum curator Dr. Clifford Carl said last night the rare birds were maintaining a steady population and perhaps showing a slight increase.

Dr. Carl said the swans usually winter on the B.C. coast and in the spring fly to the Grand Prairie area in Alberta for the nesting season.

"B.C. has the largest trumpeter population and possibly the only wild population in the world," Dr. Carl said.

There are a number of trumpeters in Montana but they were plucked at one time and cannot be considered wild.

Stay Fair To Press Says MLA

No cabinet minister, politician or member of the public should unjustly criticize the press because it presents the facts, Alan Macfarlane, Oak Bay MLA, told Victoria University students yesterday.

He said the people provide the ultimate safety valve in democratic countries. But in order to operate the valve at the right time they have to remain alert and take an active part.

PLAYS PART

"The press plays its part in keeping the public informed—and it is a vital part," he said. Parliamentary opposition also plays an important part in this safety valve system, he added.

HANSARD MYSTERY

"A Hansard system of verbatim reporting of what is said in the legislature should form an important part of our legislative system," he added.

If a Hansard system had been in effect at the special Aug. 1 session it would show the "completely arbitrary and dictatorial procedure" adopted by the Bennett regime in the B.C. Electric takeover.

Motorcycle Hits Pole Youth Hurt

A 17-year-old boy who was hurled to the ground when his motorcycle hit a power pole at Quadra and Princess yesterday was in fair condition in Royal Jubilee Hospital last night.

John Brown, 2730 Graham, suffered a fractured skull in the accident.

Police said the motorcycle, which was going north on Quadra, hit a pole about 10 feet away from the intersection.

Bonn Talks Hit Snags

BONN (Reuters)—Bargaining between Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democrats and the minority Free Democrats on a coalition government for West Germany failed to produce agreement Wednesday and more talks were scheduled today.

A 3½-hour session was held Wednesday after talks Tuesday night uncovered unexpected differences between Adenauer's party and the right wing free enterprise group.

Firm Dollar Price Suggests Pegging

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

Has the Canadian dollar been pegged at three cents below the exchange value of the U.S. dollar?

The head office of the Bank of Montreal in Montreal which provides the Canadian dollar exchange rate every day to the Canadian Press has not changed its quotation of the U.S. dollar from $1.03 since Sept. 29.

To have gone practically a month without even a fractional alteration is so unusual as to be almost impossible without artificial pegging.

Not only has the Canadian dollar remained constant at 3 per cent discount throughout October, but during September it varied minutely between that level and $1.03 3/4, and never moved by more than 1/32 from one day to another.

Some time ago the International Monetary Fund suggested that the time might be ripe for Canada to stabilize its dollar, as it did in 1939 and 1950 when it was fixed at rates set by the Foreign Exchange Control Board.

While Canada gave no undertaking that it would do so, the indications are that the Bank of Canada through its equalization fund is working towards a fixed price dollar, and the fact that there has been no change in the daily quotation for four weeks indicates the efficacy of the operation.

One major advantage of a dollar exchange that does not change is that it makes it easier for importers and exporters to estimate their costs of doing business that has to be settled in the currency of another country.

MORE FOR HOLDERS
Imperial Petroleum Company reported yesterday it had increased its quarterly dividend rate from 60 to 70 cents a share. It will also pay a 40 cents year extra the same as last year.

PARTNERSHIP DEAL
R.C. Power Corporation states that it has not sold its 50 per cent share of International Power and Engineering Consultants to the B.C. Electric, but will share ownership of the company with the Crown corporation.

UNDERWRITERS STUDY
Life Underwriters Association of Victoria is starting its annual L.U.A.V. courses on Saturday. The training course takes two years, and Fred A. Crick, chairman of the local course committee says that about 20 underwriters will be divided between the first and second year courses. First year course will be moderated by J. W. Cantelon, and the second year by F. W. Givens.

Life Underwriters Association of Victoria is starting its annual L.U.A.V. courses on Saturday. The training course takes two years, and Fred A. Crick, chairman of the local course committee says that about 20 underwriters will be divided between the first and second year courses. First year course will be moderated by J. W. Cantelon, and the second year by F. W. Givens.

MAJOR ADVANTAGE
While Canada gave no undertaking that it would do so, the indications are that the Bank of Canada through its equalization fund is working towards a fixed price dollar, and the fact that there has been no change in the daily quotation for four weeks indicates the efficacy of the operation.

One major advantage of a dollar exchange that does not change is that it makes it easier for importers and exporters to estimate their costs of doing business that has to be settled in the currency of another country.

Imperial Petroleum Company reported yesterday it had increased its quarterly dividend rate from 60 to 70 cents a share. It will also pay a 40 cents year extra the same as last year.

Saanich Tax Trial Off to Plodding Start

First plodding steps in what is expected to be a prolonged trial were taken yesterday, when Henry Eng, 3475 Quadra, appeared in Saanich police court on six charges of falsification of income tax returns.

The charges involve his T-1 returns for the years 1953, 1954, 1955, 1956, 1957 and 1958.

Only two of an expected 25 prosecution witnesses were heard by Acting Magistrate J. A. Byers yesterday. Between them, 21 exhibits of a probable 50 were introduced.

PIECES OF PAPER

All but one of these were admitted by Mr. Haldane "only as documents, or pieces of paper, seized by an officer of the department under a writ from the Exchequer Court, with argument still to be heard as to whether or not they proved anything."

Among the exhibits were the disputed income tax returns, a number of ledger books, cash books, cheque stubs and other documents, some of which had been seized at Mr. Eng's place of business.

TWO WITNESSES

Witnesses heard were John Gardiner Allison, 2173 Neil, supervisor of the department of national revenue in Victoria, and Robert Strong McGee, 3470 Cardiff, supervisor

House-Building Up 20 Per Cent

OTTAWA (CP) — The pace of new house-building picked up in September, with 20 per cent more homes started than a year earlier. But a drop in mortgage lending signalled a possible slowdown in new construction during the winter.

Housing starts in the month totalled 8,930 in centres of 5,000 population and over compared with 7,443 in Sept., 1960. Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation reported Tuesday.

This brought total starts in the first nine months of the year to 67,279, up 27.8 per cent from 52,640 for the corresponding period last year.

British Ponder Changes After Another Ryder Cup Defeat

LONDON (Special)—British Ryder Cup officials are taking a long, hard look at a number of suggested changes aimed at making Britain more competitive in the one-sided international golf series against the United States.

Britain's 11th defeat in 14 matches since the classic between the two nations began back in 1927 has led to renewed pressure for drastic revisions in the makeup of the British team.

So far, however, no one has come up with any bright answers to the real problem—how to make British professionals play better against tournament-toughened Americans in the two-day series held once every two years.

The British team was far from disgraced in this month's match at Lancashire seaside links of Royal Lytham and St. Annes. It started back from the usual poor start and managed to stay alive until the final set of singles before losing by 13 matches to eight with three halved.

It was an expected defeat, yet tempered by brilliant two-day performances from captain Dai Rees, Peter Alliss and 27-year-old newcomer Neil Coles, youngest player on either side. It was a creditable defeat against one of the strongest American teams in years led by diminutive Jerry Barber and sparked by the incomparable Arnold Palmer, unbeaten in the four matches in which he was involved.

But a British victory seemed out of the question after the Americans won six of the eight foursomes matches on opening day, and the futility of Britain in the series has raised anew some old issues.

It now seems certain that a clumsy point system to select the 10-man British team will be scrapped. The system this year resulted in two of the nation's outstanding golfers, stormy Eric Brown and Dave Thomas, failing to make the team and Harry Weetman only entering it through the back door. Brown is Britain's best singles player in the series with four straight victories.

The selection of a non-playing captain is also being given close consideration in view of the new and what appeared to be highly successful format of the Ryder Cup.

Barber had sufficient strength to bench himself for the first set of foursomes and take a good look at the performances of his golfers, dropping two of them for the second set. Rees could hardly afford to do this and he came under heavy fire for failing to shake up his team after losing three of the first four 18-hole foursomes.

Rees also ran into opposition from some of his own team members as captain of the British side for a fourth straight time. They want the captaincy spread around because of the prestige—and financial gain—which accompanies the position.

But few could have done a better job than Rees in installing in his men the fighting qualities needed to overcome the Americans. And his own performance was a brilliant example to the rest of his team of how to beat the visitors at their own game. In the long run, it was the Americans' ability on and around the green and their knack of pulling a seemingly impossible shot out of the bag in a crucial situation that spelled the difference between the two sides.

Weetman had a particularly trying time. He lost a match by one hole against Ford when he fluffed a two-footer on the 18th, and found himself two down to Art Wall at the turn after shouting a three-under-par 33. Wall did it in 31.

Another deciding factor was Britain's poor starting & fault that has handicapped British international teams over the years.

Rees admitted after the series the Americans won because they were simply the better golfers.

Despite all the new ideas for strengthening the British team, officials will first have to find a way to improve the calibre of play here.

And that means more golf under tough competitive conditions, bigger stakes and above all the "killer" instinct possessed by only a few British golfers, and almost all the American ones.

VIEWSOFSPORT

By Red Smith

After the fight Ray Robinson sat on a rubber table and posed shaking hands with Dr. Ralph Bunche, his Under-Secretary for Special Political Affairs. By comparison with the United Nations Headquarters just across town, Madison Square Garden must have seemed to Dr. Bunche a place of enviable harmony and sweet accord. In the Garden, disputes are settled in 45 minutes or less and the decision is final, even though a fairly raucous chorus of "Nyet!" had accompanied the voting this evening.

"Hold it a moment, will you please, Doctor?" a photographer said, reloading his camera.

"I'm not going any place," Dr. Bunche said. "Neither," muttered a realist in the rear of the dressing room, "is Ray." He was one of a considerable company who felt that Denny Moyer had earned the victory which a referee and two judges had given to Robinson.

"Well, Ray," a guy asked, "where do we go from here?" "When you reach my stage," said the fighter, whose stage in 41 years removed from the basement, "you just have to take 'em as they come. Can't call your own shots."

Shape of Tomorrow

Not that he won't try to call them. He has said that he wants to fight either England's Terry Downes or Utah's Gene Tullmer or both, win for the sixth time all or part of the revered middleweight championship of the world and retire. Harry Markson, director of boxing in the Garden, said he would try to make a rematch with Moyer. The crowd had given noisy evidence of enjoyment during the bout and noisy evidence of dissatisfaction with the decision—excellent reasons in any promoter's book for a return fight.

Moyer said he'd like Robinson back but not in New York, where the officiating does not command his admiration. Robinson might be amenable to a rematch, for Moyer is no puncher, having scored only eight knockouts in thirty-six fights. At his age, Robinson could be made acutely uncomfortable by a puncher.

"Good fight, wasn't it," customers kept telling one another as they departed. This was more revealing as a commentary on the class of fighters now in operation than a critique of the performance just witnessed.

Faded Skills

Fact is, as an exposition of the Sweet Science it was pretty bad. Once the superb craftsman, the Robinson of today has courage, craftiness, self-esteem, showmanship and a body whose outward appearance makes a fair of the calendar. If he were a slightly looser waistband, chances are not even a tiny bulge would be discernible above his trunks.

He has lost the reflexes that enabled him to use these facts so effectively. The swift combinations of yesterday are single punches now. The straight right hand is gone. It is a long, roundhouse swing which Moyer had no difficulty evading, either by ducking or retreating. Sometimes there is desperation in the swing and it misses so widely the spectator can scarcely believe it is Robinson who threw it.

Moyer is cool, game, apparently impervious to pain, and trained from childhood in the orthodox moves. He is primarily a counter-puncher, without a punch. Only once in ten rounds a double hook was seen to land, and it was Moyer who landed it against the man who once could put these punches together in his sleep.

Still, it was a busy fight and rough, though nobody got black eye. Unable to find Moyer's chin, Robinson did his best work downstairs where he frequently employed the Andy Varapapa technique, swinging lower than sweet chariot. When they clinched, Robinson's claque on the Eighth Ave. side would scream, at Barney Felix, the referee, to watch Moyer's head. Barney saw no evil, heard no evil, spoke only "Break."

Past-Perfect

"Box 'im, Sugar, you the best that ever was," a lady cried repeatedly. The sentiment was admirable, the tense wrong. Moyer, a strong kid, was able to lose Robinson around in the latter rounds. "I permitted him to do that," Ray said later. "He used up his strength. I could have resisted."

"Did you get tired?" "No, I might have lagged some in the middle rounds. I wanted to finish fast, but I guess he had the same idea. At my stage, you can't set a pace through ten rounds."

Announcement of the unanimous decision sent a crestfallen Moyer out of the ring in a hurry. The winner, posing in mid-ring, stared out over the top rope with shrouded eyes, more than a little mournful, while dissidents shouldered the ring with wadded programs. He may deceive some of the right people at propitious times. It is difficult to believe he deceives himself.

Rain, sleet and snow couldn't dampen the enthusiasm of Victoria Sno-Birds, who put work party of 40 members on the club's Green Mountain site and put down log foundation for the new lodge.

Eddie Ready for Blades or...

The telephone at Eddie Dorohoy's house is busy these days as Los Angeles Blades try to sign him and the Silent One himself tries to pry some money out of Vancouver Canucks and/or Winnipeg Warriors.

While trying to settle the issue of his back wages with Canucks and Warriors, Dorohoy is listening to offers from the Blades for the Western Hockey League season. At least, he listens a little. Mostly he talks.

"Sure, I wouldn't mind playing in Los Angeles," Dorohoy said last night. "George Agar must have phoned me 50 times, and I keep telling him to make a deal with Vancouver for my back wages, maybe offer them a player too, and he'll have himself a good center. Me."

"I wouldn't even mind playing in Vancouver," Ed said generously. "Sure I'm suing them, but I don't bear any grudge."

At least one of the other two applications is expected to cause considerable controversy, but Bligh would not say who the other two applications were from.

Election of officers also will be held. Bligh's two-year term is up this year.

The AAUC will also nominate an athlete for the Lou E. Marsh Memorial Trophy which goes to the outstanding Canadian athlete.

The records committee will have a busy time examining the many records that were broken or tied during the year. The meeting will also set the locations for the British Empire Games trials to be held across Canada and will hear reports from the BEG and Pan American Games committees.

The executive will meet Nov. 1 to prepare for the three-day meetings.

Share of $5,000,000 Grant Top Item for AAU Meeting

REGINA (CP)—A major item of the annual Amateur Athletic Union of Canada meeting in Edmonton Nov. 24 will be the appointment of a committee to approach the federal government for a share of $5,000,000 being allocated for physical fitness.

The AAUC controls seven sports in Canada—boxing, wrestling, gymnastics, fencing, handball, track and field and weightlifting.

"We have been approaching the government for financial assistance through the sports advisory council," Clarence

Bligh of Regina, AAUC president, said in an interview. "But it looks like we'll have to make our own requests now."

Bligh, superintendent with the Regina police force, estimated that more than 60 delegates will attend the Edmonton meetings. They will represent each of the 10 provinces.

ASK AFFILIATION

Another major item on the agenda will be ratification of three applications for affiliation with the AAUC and one application that is to be "considered."

Two applications for ratification are from the Canadian

Age No Worry For Fashoway

By the demanding standards of sport, Gordon Fashoway is an old man at 35. There are seven teams in the Western Hockey League who wish he would realize it and quit.

The lone exception is Portland Buckaroos, and that's understandable. The Bucks have Mr. Fashoway on their side.

and he's doing a whole of a job. Last night Fashoway personally took care of the Bucks' 3-1 win over San Francisco Seals. He set up Arnie Schmutz for the tying goal in the first period after Bob Selinger had scored for the Seals. Then he put them ahead with his first goal and added his second in the final period.

Another large Portland crowd gave Fashoway an ovation as he skated off the ice with seven goals in six games for the season. His WHL lifetime record stretched to 427.

Portland now has a three-point lead in the league's Southern Division with a 5-1 record.

In last night's other game in Edmonton, Flyers made a four in a row with a 5-0 victory over Los Angeles Blades as Dennis Ruggin posted the league's first shutout of the season.

Roger DeJordy scored twice within 15 seconds to lead the Flyers, who got single goals from Len Lundie, John Chiz and Doug Messier.

TORONTO (CP)—It's the custom in professional sport to blame the coach when his hired hands play like miserable underdogs. The mortality rate among coaches of Canadian football teams over the last 20 years or so attests to this. In that time, about 40 have got the gate.

Mantle Has Best Slugging Average

NEW YORK (AP)—Outfielder Mickey Mantle of New York Yankees, who took a back seat to teammate Roger Maris in the 1961 home run race, captured the American League slugging crown for the third time with a .587 percentage.

Outfielder Frank Robinson of Cincinnati Reds won the National League slugging title for the second straight season with a .613 average, figures compiled by The Associated Press showed today.

A year ago Mantle accumulated the most total bases in the league.

England Gets Sound Attack

LAHORE (Reuters)—England hit back to capture nine wickets for 149 Wednesday after finishing its first innings seven runs behind Pakistan in the cricket test match between the two countries.

The five-day match ends Thursday.

Scores at the close of play today were Pakistan 387 for nine declared and 149 for nine; England 380.

EDMONTON (CP)—Representatives of the Eastern Canadian Professional Soccer League and soccer officials from Edmonton, Calgary and Vancouver will meet here Saturday to discuss formation of a western pro soccer loop.

The eastern league has been operating professionally for a year in Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal, importing almost all its players from England, Europe and South America to ensure a high calibre of play.

The western cities are expected to propose a western

England Gets To Cup Final

Canal Toll Hike Would Hit Trade

TORONTO (UPI)—Canal tolls are certain to be raised in 1964, unless public opinion is mobilized against such a move, the Great Lakes Waterways Development Association warned.

A further increase would present a serious threat to exports from western Canada to eastern ports and overseas markets, the statement said.

all the way to the bank to cash their pay cheques. In many cases, they are the overlooked culprits.

Toronto has not been an exception to this rule. Argonauts have had some frustrating years and, generally, the coach received the blame. That was not this week, when the press-box occupants fired point-blank at the players.

Coach Lou Agase hasn't escaped. He had been blamed for an unimaginative offence against other Eastern Conference clubs. And he's been criticized for not adjusting the junior circuit, but Maris wound up the slugging leader at .581. This season it was the reverse, Maris leading in total bases and Mantle topping the sluggers.

Mantle, whose 54 home runs were second best to Maris' record of 61, accounted for 333 total bases in 514 at-bats. Among his 163 hits were 16 doubles and six triples. He won the slugging crown in 1953 with .611 and 1956 with .705.

Robinson collected 334 total bases in 515 trips to the plate. He had 33 doubles, seven triples and 37 homers among his 176 hits.

Robinson, 36, was the slugging champion in 1960 with a .595 mark.

Norm Cash of Detroit Tigers, American League batting champion with a .361 average, was runner-up to Mantle in the slugging listings at .662. Jim Gentile of Baltimore Orioles was third at .648 and Maris fourth at .620.

Orlando Cepeda of San Francisco Giants, National League home run king with 46, finished a close second to Robinson at .607.

Elgin Baylor In Big Start

DETROIT—Elgin Baylor, a young veteran, and sophomore Jerry West are giving Los Angeles Lakers the best one-two punch in the National Basketball Association.

The pair, who had averaged 33 points each in their three first games, led the Lakers to a 120-116 win over Detroit Pistons Wednesday night. Baylor, who had 36 points, and West, who wound up with 22, put on a third-quarter show which brought Lakers from 11 points in arrears to an eight-point lead.

At It Again

in the National Hockey League.

Rangers were still without Gump Worsley, the goalie who got them off to such a great start this season. Absent from the Hawks' lineup were centre Red Hay, recovering from minor foot surgery, and defenceman Pierre Pilote, who is out indefinitely with a shoulder separation suffered in a weekend game.

Both goals were scored in the second period. Defenceman Bob Turner scored for the Hawks at the 57-second mark with teammate Ab McDonald still waiting to get out of the penalty box. A 13-footer, by Ken Schinkel tied the score at 10-37.

It took some fine work by goalie Glenn Hall to preserve the tie for Chicago. Hall made 23 saves, 15 in the third period when he made successive saves on Earl Ingarfield and Pat Hannigan with his club short-handed.

Warm Welcome Set For John D in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Two major Japanese newspapers warmly welcome the coming visit of Canadian Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

The mass circulation Yomiuri said in an editorial: "We welcome him heartily — not only because of our close ties with Canada, but also because of what we have in common."

Yomiuri said Japanese and Canadian common interest is to increase trade with Communist China while maintaining close relations with the U.S.

The financial newspaper Nihon Keizai Shimbun said in its editorial: "We heartily welcome his visit and ardently hope that our two countries can try to further reinforce their co-operative relations."

HONOR GUARD

The prime minister is due for a big welcome at Tokyo international airport including an honor guard inspection.

Premier Hayato Ikeda will head Japanese and foreign dignitaries at the reception line.

Diefenbaker and his wife will also meet and lunch with Emperor Hirohito and Empress Nagako at the imperial palace Friday.

MANY RESPECTS

Yomiuri said: "We believe that Japanese government leaders should try to exchange views on the Communist China issue with Mr. Diefenbaker as frankly as possible because basically Japan's international position is similar in many respects to that of Canada."

CABINET LEVEL

Yomiuri also expressed hope the prime minister's visit would pave the way for the establishment of a Japan-Canada trade and economic committee at the cabinet level.

Nihon Keizai hoped Diefenbaker would meet various circles here so he could grasp a better understanding of Japan.

Not Coming To Victoria

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker advised local Conservatives yesterday he will have to call off his tentatively-scheduled visit to Victoria Nov. 1.

Equilibrium Socialist M.P. George Chatterton said plans for the visit had originated with the prime minister and were to coincide with his return from Japan. The prime minister hopes to visit British Columbia before the end of the year.

Attacks Ike

Former U.S. President Eisenhower considers welfare state "dirty words" but is himself the sheltered product of a welfare state army life, poet Carl Sandburg (above) charged yesterday. "Ever since Ike left Abilene," (his hometown) said Sandburg, "he never bought a suit of clothes or a meal, never was out of work. All the anxieties that go with the free enterprise system, he hasn't known them."

Two Trujillos Flee As Riots Flare Up

CUADRUJILLO (UPI) — The government yesterday confirmed the departure from the country of Hector and Ariamendi Trujillo, brothers of the late dictator, as new riots flared in the northern city of Santiago resulting in the arrest of some 30 persons.

Presidential secretary Armando Oscar Pacheco announced that Hector, a former president, departed by plane yesterday afternoon. Ariamendi, a Lieutenant General, left Tuesday, Pacheco said.

British colonial authorities said more Dominican government refugees were expected momentarily by air from Ciudad Trujillo.

Several persons were injured in new anti-government outbreaks in Santiago, second largest Dominican city.

Russians Invited To A-Test

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy announced yesterday that the United States soon will stage the world's first nuclear explosion aimed at harnessing the atom's violence for peaceful purposes.

He invited all members of the United Nations, including Russia, to observe the experiment, scheduled for about 60 days hence.

A nuclear device equal in power to 5,000 tons of TNT will be exploded 1,200 feet underground in a rock salt bed 25 miles southeast of Carlsbad, N.M.

From the experiment scientists hope to learn new facts about the nature of nuclear energy.

Job Refused Till Wife Quits Work

CHICAGO (AP) — A chemist has been sentenced to a year in jail for refusing to go to work until his wife quit her job. James Dukuras, 31, was jailed for contempt of a court order that he get a job.

His wife, Loretta, 31, who has a $80-a-week job, came to court for support of their children, Donna, 13, James, 11, and Loretta, 8. She said her husband wouldn't work while she did.

"She's right," Dukuras said. "I quit my job to teach her a lesson. She should take care of the kids as she's supposed to do."

"I can get a job tomorrow but I won't until she quits and stays home."

'Steel Champs' — Sir Charles

Some 40 members of the institute started a tour of North America steel centres last week.

Sir Charles was born in 1904 in a manse at Neepawa, Man.

1,150,000 Unionists

New Party Bids for Backers

OTTAWA (CP) — The New Democratic Party will soon launch a country-wide campaign to sign up trade union locals behind the party program.

Party officials said Wednesday applications will be mailed out next week, with full instructions on how to affiliate formally.

About 6,000 locals affiliated with the Canadian Labor Congress will receive applications. Their membership is more than 1,150,000 workers.

In some cases, the affiliation material is being sent to the national headquarters of unions, which want to forward the forms themselves, including special material on why individual locals should affiliate.

In the package will be messages from CLC President Claude Jodoin and NDP Leader T. C. Douglas.

Mr. Jodoin says each union must decide for itself the issue of affiliation.

"Not every union can affiliate and the officers of the national headquarters of unions, such occupations as civil servants to do so," he says. "But the vast majority can do so and should."

Affiliation instructions specify that each local must provide an escape clause for those who do not wish dues paid in their behalf to the new party. Dues are five cents per member per month.

Soft Spots In All Subs — Admiral

HALIFAX (CP) — All submarines, even nuclear-powered ones, have an Achilles heel, says Vice-Admiral Edmund Taylor. It is up to defensive forces to spot the weakness and take advantage of it, the commander of U.S. anti-submarine forces in the Atlantic said yesterday in Nova Scotia.

Fire Safety Research Urged By Wood Development Council

CALGARY (CP) — The Canadian Wood Development Council Tuesday criticized what it called the "false impression" that non-combustible materials necessarily offer better protection against fire than wood.

The council, holding its annual meeting here, said the most important safety factor is good building design—and this applies to all building materials.

The council adopted a 1962 research program calling for "greatly expanded" research on fire safety factors in wood construction and design.

It was told that experts are making substantial progress across Canada in all technical fields related to the use of wood. Data on its use in construction is being supplied to architects, engineers and builders by field men in Toronto, Vancouver, Winnipeg and Montreal, reported council president J. S. Johansson of Vancouver.

A report by Paul Murdoch, president of the Quebec Lumber Manufacturers Association, said the introduction of grade marking of lumber next year will be of great service to the public in the selection and use of materials.

Mr. Johansson was re-elected council president at the three-day meeting concluded.

U.S. 'Dictates to Doctors'

REGINA (CP) — Attorney General Walker said in legislative debate on second reading of the Medical Insurance Act Wednesday he did not believe the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons was upholding the views of the general membership.

"I believe the Saskatchewan college in this matter is under the domination of others," he said.

"One has only to look at the attitude of American doctors toward social programs to form some idea of where this dictation is coming from. One is justified in assuming that the stand of the college was inspired by the American doctors."

"I deplore the use of the powers of the college to coerce and threaten its members to oppose the medical bill," he said. "If one believes the college, the medical profession is concerned more with money obligations, and the doctors he hoped it would be improved than with service."

He said the only stumbling block the medical profession might face was the fact that, under the provincial plan, they would have to negotiate their fee structure, which until now when it voted last week not to have been prescribed by the college.

"Their own union dictated the tariff," he said. "I believe that when the final results are known, the college will not have forced the individual doctor to put money before social some of its provisions and said he supported the principal of medical care and would vote for the bill."

However, he was critical of some of its provisions and said he hoped it would be improved before given final reading. He also said he disliked the method of financing the plan. He criticized the medical profession for "trying to hinder progressive legislative action."

He said the total fault did not lie with the doctors, but with the government as well.

He agreed the plan should be paid for on the basis of ability to pay. The proposed increase in income tax was fair on this basis, but premium and sales tax costs were not.

Big Search For Helmets Ends Home

BELLEVILLE, Ont. (CP) — The band of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment combed England and the Commonwealth for helmets to complete their 1961-style uniforms — then found 40 of them right at home.

The white-spiked helmets were discovered in an attic of an old home.

Little Aid Hope Given to Guiana

OTTAWA (CP) — Observers here are doubtful that Canada will make long-term development loans available to British Guiana, at least in any great volume.

Canadian assistance to the South American country after it becomes independent — possibly next year — likely would be along the broad lines of existing economic aid policy, it was reported Tuesday.

British Guiana Premier Cheddi Jagan is understood to have been given little encouragement by Canadian officials last week when he came here seeking to line up long-term, low-interest loans to spur Guianese economic development.

Oronsay Will Pause Off City Saturday

The 28,000-ton P & O-Orient liner Oronsay will stop briefly off British Columbia about noon Saturday to pick up a pilot and customs, immigration and health officials. She is due to sail from Vancouver at 5 p.m. Sunday and should pass through Juan de Fuca Strait outward bound about 9 p.m.

Woodward's Shuns City Hall Site

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow's dream of having Woodward Stores Ltd. build on the site of the present city hall is nothing but a dream.

"We have had a real good look at that location and we are now interested," Charles Woodward, president of the company, told the Colonist last night.

"The city hall site would be too small for us to use as a store and we would need a minimum of parking space for 750 cars," he added.

He was commenting on Ald. Edgelow's suggestion that the city should move quickly to "reactivate" a proposal that Woodward's buy the present city hall site.

"If the city does purchase the B.C. Hydro building for a new city hall, then we should be in a position to try immediately to sell the present property so it would go on the tax roll," Ald. Edgelow said.

"I can't think of a better way to do it than reactivate the Woodward deal."

Vote 'Yes'—Reeve

Reeve George Murdoch of Oak Bay last night urged ratepayers to vote in favor of the school building referendum Saturday.

It is known that income tax is a better source for cost of education than taxation of property, "and I have personally argued many times that each municipal district should stand on its own feet in the matter of service to its people, including schools," said the reeve.

MUST HAVE ROOM

"Nevertheless, after a long discussion with school board officials the Oak Bay council is convinced that we must have the schoolroom accommodation required if the growing number of children in the area are to be properly educated."

SHIFT SYSTEM

"Fifteen schoolrooms of the total number are immediately required for Oak Bay students and unless these are provided the school board will have to report to a shift system by next September," he said.

Navy Considers More Subs For Pacific Coast Operations

Grilse Great Addition Rayner Tells Victoria

By TED SHACKLEFORD

The RCN may obtain more submarines for its operations on the Pacific Coast, its commander said yesterday.

But Vice-Admiral H. S. Rayner, chief of naval staff, refused to commit himself during a press conference in Victoria. He arrived from Ottawa yesterday afternoon for a four-day inspection tour.

"The Grilse has been an unqualified success," he said. "She is a great addition to this command. Having our own submarine means we are able to schedule exercises continually."

"We have been giving a lot of thought to adding another submarine but no decision has been reached yet."

"We do need 'live' subs for training. We need more subs than we have for giving the anti-submarine ships and aircraft the practice we think they should have."

The RCN has the use of three submarines based at Halifax and the Grilse, based at Esquimalt.

In reply to further questioning, Admiral Rayner added:

SEVERAL MONTHS

"This matter has been under study—we have gone into it very thoroughly over several months."

"We have looked at conventional submarines, nuclear submarines, building them in Canada and procuring them from abroad."

"Conclusions have been reached but the matter still awaits a decision."

SURFACE SHIPS

Addition of more submarines would mean a curtailment of the replacement program for surface ships, he added.

The RCN anti-submarine program is geared to conventional submarines, but the addition of helicopters and landing platforms on St. Laurent class ships is planned to increase their utility."

MORE PROMISE

"Helicopters will give them a weapon with greater speed than the nuclear submarines. The helicopter has great promise."

Helicopters and landing platforms also will be fitted to two of the MacKenzie class destroyer escorts, together with variable depth sonar.

Admiral Rayner, accompanied by Rear Admiral E. W. Finch-Noyes, flag officer with Pacific Coast, inspected the Admiral Rayner Navy League Cadet Corps at Rainbow Barracks last night.

'Temporary'

Fewer Riding BCE Buses Since Cutback
Drastic reduction of bus services in Greater Victoria by the B.C. Electric in an attempt to reduce its annual transit service losses has resulted in a loss of passengers, a company spokesman indicated last night.

"Patronage dropped off slightly at the outset" of the reduced service schedule, but "has been building back since and is expected within a month to be at the pre-change level," he said.

The new service was designed to trim some $70,000 from annual operating losses. Asked if the losses now are less than they were before, the BCE spokesman said: "It would appear so. We're running fewer miles. It's difficult to tell whether we made all the savings we'd hoped for."

Jaycees In Favor

Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce last night endorsed the $1,755,000 Greater Victoria school building referendum.

A Jaycee sound track will cruise downtown Friday urging voters to support the bylaw Saturday.

Fast Ideas, Faster Feet Key to MP's Success

How does a member of Parliament, who sits up with the eagles in seat 288, manage to get his ideas—and those of his constituents—across to the senior members of his government?

George Chatterton, member for Esquimalt-Saanich, who mounted this farthest-back of all the benches last May, last night explained the combination of fast thinking, fast talking and fast footwork he has used to get things done.

And apparently, he told a meeting of the Young Progressive Conservatives, it really works.

"The thing to figure out," he told them, "is how to buttonhole the ministers on the way out. I find that, if I scoot around back and down into the lobby, I can catch them that way."

From the list of projects he read, Mr. Chatterton's jaunts to the lobby have been more than usually successful.

He has convinced the government another engineering study should be made on Port Renfrew breakwater.

He has backed legislation important to the Island shipbuilding industry, which he suggests might one day be the germ to produce a Canadian merchant navy—"subsidized, of course."

He has discovered—and put to good use—the truism that the government must be made to see an MP's idea from his viewpoint rather than Ottawa's.

Noting plans to spend $100,000,000 on the Canadian centenary in 1967, he said:

"That may sound like a long time from now, but we've had some dandy experiences with centennials around here and we should get started right away."

Public Hearing Today

Stormy Session Expected On High-Rise Amendment

No Shrine for Trekka It's Still Seaworthy

Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce will not spearhead a drive to save the Trekka, the 21-foot craft sailed single-handed around the world by Victoria adventurer John Guzzwell.

Jaycees scrapped the proposal during last night's general meeting on grounds that Trekka still is seaworthy and should not be cashined.

Decision was made after Jaycees sought the advice of local yachtsmen, it was reported.

Trekka was put up for sale some time ago in California by its owner, who wants to go to England and build a larger yacht.

Civic Election-Musing

Early Birds Rush But Mayor Ponders

Early entries in Victoria's annual civic elections are Ald. Mrs. Lily Wilson and William Hudson, who was within a few votes of election last year.

Four aldermen automatically retire this year but only Mrs. Wilson has announced that she will seek re-election.

The other three—Ald. Mildred Mooney, with nine years on council; Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow, with eight years' service; and Ald. Rev. J. L. W. McLean, two years—said last night they have not yet made up their minds.

ANNOUNCE DECISION

And Mayor Percy Scurrell, also facing an election this year, plans to announce his decision in a week.

W. A. Scott, a Johnson Street pawnbroker, has already announced he will contest the mayoralty.

Nominations for the city council elections is Dec. 7, city clerk M. F. Hunter said yesterday. Mr. Hunter is Victoria's electoral returning officer.

The election, itself, will be held Dec. 14 with ballots being cast for the first time in Central Junior High School.

POLLING PLACE

Victoria Ballroom, which has been used as the single polling place for city elections for several years, has been occupied this year by a discount store.

Mrs. Wilson, chairman of council's health and welfare committee, said her decision

City council faces a lengthy and stormy session this afternoon with a public hearing on a contentious amendment to the high-rise apartment zoning bylaw and another hearing on plans to create the Cathedral Hill precinct.

PERMIT 'ILLEGAL'

As it now stands, Victoria's high-rise bylaw prohibits construction of a 12-storey apartment in the form planned for a site on Douglas Street overlooking Beacon Hill Park.

Despite this, a building permit was issued to allow construction of the apartment. City solicitor T. P. O'Grady has told council the permit was illegal.

AMENDMENT OPPOSED

Lawyer Edwin Popham, representing provincial government planner Alfred Staples and Douglas Street apartment owner Emil Dery, 651 Avalon, will oppose an amendment to permit high rise construction at today's public hearing.

The amendment has been given preliminary approval by city council, which was told that it clarifies the original intent of the high-rise bylaw.

HOW EXPECTED

Also expected to cause contention is the public hearing on council's plans to create a Cathedral Hill precinct with wholesale rezoning of land within the immediate area around the new provincial courthouse and Christ Church Cathedral.

The 15-acre area lies at the southern end of 851 proposed Blanshard Street highway into Victoria.

Woman Doctor on Board

Body and Soul Care Provided at Gallop

By TED PULFORD

Out in the tall country around Alert Bay, the wilderness characters have a soft spot in their hearts for a tiny woman doctor, weighing in at about 50 pounds complete with stethoscope, who sails the area on board the Anglican Church's M.V. Columbia.

Joyce Davies, M.D., might send the public relations men from a great medical clinic rushing for their tranquillizers, but she's too busy patching people up to concern herself with such questions as whether soft lights in the waiting room relax patients or how to make someone pay his bill.

CONFUSE DOCTOR

Dr. Davies does everything at a gallop and a visitor to the Columbia might easily confuse the sneakered and blue-janed medic with a touring teenager.

Even so, it's a safe bet that the 200-odd sailing lumberjacks, trappers, fishermen and Indians the examines, injects, cajoles and punnels on every trip don't see her that way at all.

TINY HEALER

What brought this diminutive healer from a private practice in Great Britain to the tiny office on board the floating mission ship Columbia?

Being a complex person, she probably has no simple answer, but her deep interest in new experience is probably at the bottom of it all.

FOURTH OF CALL

She relates all of the 120-odd ports of call on the Columbia's itinerary directly to the people she finds there.

Talking about the work of the Columbia, which adopts the approach that a man's body must be ministered to at the same time as the soul, Dr. Davies lays stress upon what might be considered merely routine.

FIRESIDE TALKS

Though she and her co-workers occasionally collide with dramatic experiences which make great fireside tales later, the steady performance of a great many routine tasks is the Columbia's reason for sailing the inland water around Alert Bay.

For Dr. Davies, the day's work is a baby with bottle, an old woman with a stomach ache, a man with an infected cut, a pregnant woman who has already had more babies than are good for her.

But however ordinary it may be, Columbia's service is a vital one, filled with opportunities for helping people in the business of everyday living.

And that seems to suit Dr. Davies to a "T."

From 10 a.m. to noon and from 2 to 5 p.m. today and tomorrow, members of the Anglican Church will be on hand to escort the public through the Columbia as it lies at anchor in the Inner Harbor.

Members of the church junior auxiliary and Sunday school children will visit the ship Saturday.

Art Gallery Loses Over City Donation

The Art Gallery of Greater Victoria is getting less money from the city than it used to before it took over operation of the city-donated centennial wing.

The gallery gets less than $200 from the city after taxes are deducted from the city's annual grant, Cmdr. P. F.

Hot Dogs Ready For Charity

Solarium Junior League will have 1,200 steaming hot dogs ready to sell Sunday from its mobile canteen at Goldstream Park.

The canteen is set up at Goldstream flats where thousands of people go to watch salmon fight their way upstream. It was not known last night whether any salmon have started their run.

Fairfull told last night's annual members' meeting.

Cmdr. Fairfull, president of the board of directors while centennial wing was being built, expressed alarm that the gallery has to pay taxes on the city's centennial project.

The gallery fared better when it was smaller and taxes were only $700 and the city's grant $1,500, he said.

Dr. Robert Stark, past president and chairman of the meeting, said the gallery received a 1961 grant of $2,960 from the city and had to pay back $2,762 in taxes.

The gallery had a total operating expenditure of $27,730 and a deficit of $4,028.26, it was reported.

Hugh Stephen, new president, said the year ahead will have to be one of financial and administrative consolidation. The gallery will have to seek increased grants and press for a greater awareness of its cultural contribution to the community.

Navy League Meet Opens Here Today

At least 50 delegates from most Canadian cities are expected to attend the 66th annual Navy League of Canada convention starting at 9 a.m. today in the Empress Hotel.

Today's events will include registration, meeting and discussion periods and an official reception at Government House at 5:30 p.m.

Women delegates will be entertained at a dinner party presided over by Mrs. E. W. Finch-Noyes, wife of the flag officer Pacific Coast.

The convention will continue through Friday when the annual banquet will be held at 7:30 p.m. in HMCS Naden wardroom.

Victoria Man Wed In East

In St. James' Chapel of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception in Kingston, Ont., Mr. Douglas John Fostbrooke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Fostbrooke, 1676 Beach Drive, took as his bride, Gail Alexandra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Carson of Kingston.

The wedding was performed by Rev. B. J. Walsh, before an altar decorated with white gladiolus and shasta chrysanthemums and flickering candles.

The lovely, dark-haired bride wore a full-length gown of white delustrated satin with Sabrina neckline and long, lily-point sleeves. The waistline was gathered to large inverted pleats accented with Alençon lace and cascaded to a full, cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of tulle was held to a coronet of seed pearls and petals. She carried a white orchid surrounded with stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. T. W. Pearce of Edmonton, sister of the bride, with Miss Jean Roughton and Miss Marion MacLeod of Kingston attended the bride. They wore gowns of American Beauty mauve de sole with square necklines and belted skirts. They carried cascades of white carnations and shasta chrysanthemums.

Flight Lieut. T. W. Pearce of Edmonton was best man. Ushering guests to pews were Dr. J. D. Allen of Toronto and Flight Lieut. C. H. Casson of Comox.

After the ceremony, guests were received at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's going-away costume was an Italian blue knitted suit with matching hat, and corsage of white gardenias. Mr. and Mrs. Fostbrooke are moving across Canada to Victoria, and will continue to Courtenay where they will make their home.

MISS RHODA LEE

Scholarship For Rhoda Lee

Special guests at the monthly dinner of the Victoria Business and professional women's club were Miss Rhoda Lee and her mother, Mrs. F. Lee.

Miss Lee is the winner of the club's memorial scholarship this year, and is at present studying accounting at Victoria University.

Miss Ruth Adams presided at the meeting and arrangements were under the direction of Miss Agnes McMullin and Miss Dorothy Crighton.

Speaker for the evening was Mrs. Phyllis Gravley, who talked on "Freedom from Hunger."

She stressed the need for idealists who do not work for material gain, and pointed out the Canadian Freedom from Hunger committee is a voluntary one and that its aim is to help voluntary organizations to play a part in removing hunger from the world.

Young people could well be urged to fit themselves for work as technical advisors as there is a great need for them in this very vital work, she said. The objective of the Freedom from Hunger Committee is to arouse interest among people to the point of deciding to do something about it.

Hadassah

Queue at Door for Bazaar

The annual Hadassah bazaar, this year held at the Legion Hall, again proved to be a most successful and popular event. It was so popular, there was a queue at the door to get into it.

Once in, it was difficult to move toward any of the stalls. Most inaccessible of the stalls was the "bakery shop" filled with special Jewish delicacies such as Chalek, honey cake, and strudel. One confection read, "Kufles—heat me before you eat me." The vast varieties of cakes and bread were sold out in rapid time.

Such was the success of the bakery products. Almost as popular was the delicatessen, with special meats, pickles and saucers. One of the most interesting of the stalls at the affair was the one exhibiting Israeli crafts. Mrs. Abe Charkow, who is trade chairman of the Vancouver Hadassah, came over from the mainland to convene this usual display.

It was in 1958 that Mrs. Charkow visited Israel for the first time. She became so fascinated with the crafts there, that she began an import business which is now flourishing.

Among the articles were homecrafts made by the Yemenite women who live in "sheltered villages." Their silver thread embroidery work is quite outstanding, but the most original work seemed to be the handwoven linen, which is later painted or applied. This linen is made from flax grown on reclaimed desert.

They were beautiful ashtrays, made of cast brass and enameled so that they are heat-proof. The brass, said Mrs. Charkow, comes from mines of King Solomon.

Again there were all manner of clay products in lovely shapes and illuminated with Biblical designs. Among other attractions of the bazaar was an auction held last evening.

Fashion Show Today At Empress

This afternoon at 3 p.m., two times, and again this evening during the Smorgasbord dinner at 7 p.m. at the Empress Hotel, fashions from Island Weavers and Today's will be presented. This will be the second annual affair of this sort, when strolling models will show fashions designed in Island Weavers workrooms and fabrics made on their looms, as well as imported styles.

Other members of the executive are Mrs. T. Hemmett, first vice-president; Mrs. B. Ripley, second vice-president; Mrs. G. A. Carlos, secretary, and Miss J. Simson, treasurer. Executive committee members are Mrs. Robert C. Campbell, Miss M. Fawdry, Miss K. Roberts, Mrs. Fanny Smith, Mrs. E. Ingall, Mrs. A. Reed and Mrs. M. A. Munkett.

Wonderful To Be Back In Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—The chateau of Government House from 1946 to 1952 was back in the stately residence of Canada's governors general recently as a guest, and obviously enjoying it more.

"It's fun to see Canada not as the wife of the governor-general," was the diplomatic way Lady Alexander put it. "It's simply wonderful to be back."

"Now I'm just the wife of a travelling businessman," she said in an interview. Earl Alexander and his wife are guests of Governor-General and Mme. Vanier while on a five-week business and pleasure trip around the world.

Lady Alexander remarked that she had always liked Government House and was pleased to notice "an enormous improvement" in the grounds and the building itself.

The Alexanders left Ottawa Sunday for Kingston, Ont., where their eldest son, Lord Hadesu, is an executive at the Aluminum Company of Canada plant. Earl Alexander is a director of the parent company, Aluminum Limited.

Later the couple will fly to Vancouver and Kilmait, B.C., and then to Hawaii, Australia, New Zealand and Singapore.

Their oldest daughter lives in Singapore and they haven't seen her in two years.

Bridge and Tea Proves Success

One of the most pleasant occasions of the fall season is the Bridge and Tea arranged annually by the Alumnae of St. Joseph's Hospital, in the Nurses Residence.

Mrs. C. Browning was convener of the tea, which was served both to those who played bridge in the auditorium, or those who simply came for tea alone, in the nurses lounge.

Mrs. G. F. Rose and Mrs. W. McLuhan convened the bridge and there were some 30 tables in play during the afternoon and again in the evening.

Afternoon bridge prizes were won by Mrs. J. Redford, Mrs. H. R. Moore, Mrs. D. Boardman, Mrs. Owen Fowler, Mrs. Eleanor McKee, Mr. R. Bertola and Mrs. D. M. Catter.

Mrs. A. C. Bridge, president of the alumnae, who received guests, explained that money raised from the affair will be used for furnishings for the residence, and to provide student bursaries.

Pouring tea during the afternoon were Mrs. J. Bramley, T. Moore and Mrs. P. Webb, Mrs. K. Roach, garden; Mrs. J. Fowler, Mrs. S. Marinker and Mrs. G. Walther, homecooking; Mrs. R. Oakman, R. McGregor and Mrs. R. and Mrs. L. Spencer, novelty; Kersey, raffles.

The sum of $900 was realized at the LA Britannia Branch Canadian Legion annual fall bazaar. Mrs. M. Williams welcomed guests and Mrs. Percy Scurrah opened the affair.

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Last Thursday was one of the hottest days in our city's history. Our wonderful 14-year-old collie was in the yard as usual. I had to fill his water pan three times.

About mid-afternoon he began to whine so I let him in the house. He looked at me pleadingly, panted a few times and then rolled over and died. Blaise was like a member of the family. It took all my strength to call my neighbor and ask her to bury him — which she did.

When my husband came home I told him about Blaise. He turned on me like a maniac. He said I was stupid not to call a vet. He claims the vet might have saved him. I tried to explain Blaise dropped dead before I knew anything was wrong but he refused to listen.

My husband then went to the phone and called his mother and sisters and told them that my stupidity had killed the dog. Nothing I said seemed to get through. I'm really annoyed at him for making me out to be a nut. Any advice? — WILMA

Dear Wilma: Your husband is distraught over the death of the dog and he is reacting in a child-like manner — placing the blame on the handiest party. A dog 14 years old is equivalent to a human being of 98. I'd say Blaise lived a good, full life.

Go out and buy another collie as soon as possible. Name him Blaise, Jr., and tell your husband to button his lip already.

Pensioners

Raise $1,000

Mrs. G. R. Pearkes opened the bazaar for the No. 1 Old-Age Pensioners at the K. of P. Auditorium recently.

The affair realized $1,000. Mrs. Pearkes and other guests were welcomed by Mrs. R. French.

Decorated stalls offered a variety of useful articles including fancy needle work, baby wear, woodens, plants and vegetables. Tea was served by the women of the OAP auxiliary.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm getting pretty fed up on the actions of a certain man who has been coming over to play cards with my father for as long as I can remember. He always brings me a sack of candy as if I were two years old. I'm 15 now and I think it's time he stopped trying to kiss me on the lips and pull me onto his lap. I told my mother that maybe this was all right when I was a baby but I'm a young lady now and I hate it. I also told her that if he doesn't stop pawing me I am going to sock him right in the chops. May I have your O.K.? — NO INFANT

Dear No Infant: Sorry, but a young lady doesn't go around socking her father's friends — or anyone else — in the chops. You are perfectly right to resent his behavior but there's a better way to handle the old coot.

Tell him you've outgrown the baby stuff and from now on his greeting is a handshake. If he doesn't get in line tell your father to give him the message — man to man.

Party Chief On Trial In Quebec?

QUEBEC CITY (UPI)—A motion for the arrest of former Union Nationale party treasurer Gerald Martineau on contempt of court charges will be decided Oct. 30, royal commission chairman Judge Elie Salvais ruled last night.

Legislative councillor Edouard Masson, QC, who took up the defence of Martineau Tuesday, fought all day to prove the investigation was "more a trial than an inquiry."

"Is this the case of the present Liberal government against Mr. Martineau or an inquiry at large covering everyone?" asked Mr. Masson. "If it is a trial why not go before a legitimate court of justice?"

The Union Nationale attorney accused the commission of being "the tool of political vengeance."

"Are the lawyers assigned to the commission working for the commission or are they attorneys of the office of the attorney-general?" he asked. "Has this commission become the judicial instrument of vengeance?"

"Why is it that the commission lawyers at the last minute (Tuesday) produced, without warning, their motion for the arrest?"

"That man has been mud-slogged for over one year and now this commission becomes a tool seeking his destruction."

OTTAWA (CP)—The Supreme Court of Canada rejected an attempt yesterday by Abraham Belzberg, Calgary real estate broker, to introduce new evidence in his appeal against his conviction last May on two counts of municipal corruption.

The 63-year-old businessman was convicted of offering bribes of $500 and $300 to Lawrence Walker, Calgary's chief building inspector, in connection with two buildings in which Belzberg had an interest.

Belzberg was acquitted on the two bribery charges by Mr. Justice J. M. Cairns in Alberta Supreme Court. The Alberta Appeal Court, however, allowed an appeal by John Gellat produced a holdup note and a toy pistol. He was charged with possession of an offensive weapon.

and FARLEY'S instant FEEDING BISCUITS

You are the centre of his tiny world. To you he looks for the foods that will make him sturdy and strong. Farley's instant baby biscuits, for instance. Such an excellent source of vitamins and minerals. So "good" to his delicate little digestion. And so easy for you to prepare. Simply crush, dissolve in warm milk or milk formula, and feed from the bottle. Or add milk and serve from a bowl. Then at teething time give baby a dry Farley's to hold so he can chew to his heart's content in perfect safety. Hadn't you better stock up on this different feeding biscuit—for baby's sake? Winning Contract

By HOWARD SCHWENK and RICHARD L. FREY

The job of the defence is to make life as difficult as possible for the declarer. When the declarer can see that the cards are favorably placed for declarer, they should try to make the distribution appear unfavorable. East created just such an impression in today's hand.

Although North held only nine points in high cards, his hand was too strong for a one trump response because of the fairly good five-card suit.

South won the opening lead and entered dummy with the club king to lead a spade. East followed with the king without the slightest hesitation. South was not the suspicious type. If East's king were singleton, West had started with four spades to the ten. In that case, it was necessary to finesse dummy's spade nine at once. South couldn't afford to lose a trump trick, for there was danger of a diamond ruff.

When declarer finessed the spade nine, East captured it with the ten, exited with a heart and waited patiently to take the setting trick with the diamond king.

Had East wondrously followed with the spade ten on the first round, South would have had no problem, would have lost no trump trick and would have made his slam.

West Coast Rescue

Tug Crew, 'Copter Save Injured Sailor

Swim Ends In Pen

ALBERNI—Nelson Joseph, 21, was sentenced to two-and-a-half years in the penitentiary when he was convicted on a charge of breaking and entering Riverview Service Station.

The young man was apprehended last week after he jumped or fell into Somass River as police pursued him.

The accused apparently swam down the river in his attempt to elude police.

He was picked up later on Beaver Creek Road.

Joseph had several previous convictions. He pleaded not guilty to the charge.

TOFINO — A member of the crew of the Vancouver tug J. S. Foley, injured when struck by a tow line, was picked up by an RCAF helicopter today and flown to hospital here.

BROKEN HIP

The seaman, whose identity was not immediately available, suffered a broken hip and other injuries when struck by the cable and knocked into the water as the tug was off the west coast of the island.

He was in the water for about 10 minutes before being saved by fellow crew members.

A medical team was sent from the RCAF base at Vancouver by air sea rescue aboard an Albatross aircraft, but the water was too rough for the plane to land near the heaving tug.

Search and rescue officials said the helicopter was at Tofino awaiting improved weather to evacuate a ground party which has been checking wreckage of a United States navy plane that had crashed in the area during the Second World War.

Courtenay Theft Puts One in Pen

NANAIMO—A Victoria man has been found guilty of breaking into a Courtenay clothing store.

Judge Arnold Hanna, sitting in Nanaimo County Court, rejected Robert Hadfield White's contention that he has "never been in Courtenay."

He sentenced White to two years in the B.C. penitentiary after finding him guilty of breaking into Rickson's Men's Wear last February.

Clothing valued at $2,500 was taken from the store.

Police stated at the trial yesterday they found clothing from Rickson's store in White's Victoria apartment, 1030 Bay.

Judge Hanna said, "I am satisfied the clothing came from this store and I am also satisfied that White took part in the crime."

Charles Westrand of Vancouver is serving a sentence in Haney Correctional Institute for the same crime.

Judge Hanna said, "I believe there was more than one man involved in this break-in."

'Council Exists —Let's Hold On'

MONTREAL (CP) — D. B. Turner, B.C.'s deputy minister of recreation and conservation, said last night a suitable council already exists to co-ordinate use of the nation's renewable resources.

This council, he told a press conference, is the steering committee that set up the current national conference on Resources for Tomorrow.

FEDERAL MEMBER

It is made up of federal Resources Minister Walter Dinsdale and a cabinet minister from each province.

"Let's hold on to it," Mr. Turner said. "These men are elected representatives of the people and they have a power of action that no council of citizens chosen at large, no matter how prominent, could possibly have."

WORKSHOP

His proposal was endorsed at a conference workshop on the problems of administering resources.

Mr. Turner said the council could be enlarged to include more federal representatives and its scope could be widened to cover all resources, renewable and non-renewable.

BODY SITS

"The body of cabinet ministers can sit around a table, discuss such nation-wide questions as soil inventory, forest fires and interprovincial travel, and decide what is good for the whole country. Then they can go back to their own provinces and get action."

HOT AND COLD

Temperatures on the Alaska Highway range from about 90 degrees in summer to 60 below in winter.

Thieves Strike Again Get $4,000 at Tofino

TOFINO—Police in this tiny West Coast community are probing the second multi-thousand-dollar theft in as many weeks. Thieves Tuesday broke into McCallum's Fish Camp offices and stole $4,000. Two weeks ago some $3,000 in cash and merchandise was stolen from a general store.

Couple Charged In Holdup

DARTMOUTH, N.S. (CP)—A man and woman were charged Wednesday night in connection with the armed holdup of a suburban bank.

Irving Damsvaag and Eliza Atkinson, both of the Halifax suburb of Sackville, were arraigned at a special session of police court.

Damsvaag was charged with armed robbery of $21,120 from the Shearwater, N.S. branch of the Bank of Montreal. Miss Atkinson was charged with being in possession of $9,958, knowing it to be stolen.

The charges were laid 14 hours after an unmasked man, brandishing a shotgun, robbed the bank as the staff was arriving for work.

Little Opposition To Expropriation

Expropriation was necessary because the laterals will run mostly along the back of private property rather than under streets in front, said municipal engineer Neville Life.

Little opposition is expected, and a majority of property owners have already signified their willingness for Saanich to go ahead with the plan, he said.

When the project is completed about the end of the year it will be connected to a sewage treatment plant which will be built early in 1962 at the municipal yard at McKenzie and Quadra.

ALONG PROPERTY

It will be more convenient to run the sewer laterals along the back property lines because most plumbing is now connected to septic tanks in backyards and because two roads paved several years ago, Nicholson and Londonderry, would have to be dug up if the laterals were installed there, said Mr. Life.

Log Barge Goes Down

VANCOUVER (CP) — The self-dumping log barge Log Transporter mysteriously sank Wednesday two miles off Cape Mudge while under tow.

The $250,000 barge, owned by Coast Cargo Services Ltd., was bound for Powell River when the tug Cedarwood's towline suddenly became slack. The barge was loaded with close to 800,000 board feet of logs.

John D Plane 'Disgrace' Says Tory

(By CP, UPI)

VANCOUVER—An RCAF Comet jetliner, turned back twice in recent months by mechanical trouble, will take Prime Minister Diefenbaker on the final leg today of his flight to a state visit to Japan.

Forced back to Sea Island base here yesterday, the plane was repaired quickly and left in pursuit of another plane carrying the Diefenbaker party. But connections were missed at Anchorage, Alaska, the first stop.

The Comet chased the other plane to Shemya in the Aleutians, where they were to meet at 12:30 a.m. today. It will complete the North Pacific journey today, with departure shortly before dawn. The troubles caused a Progressive Conservative MP to call the RCAF "inept" and "a disgrace to our nation."

UPPER ECHELON

In a telegram to Defence Minister Harkness, William Payne, member for Coast Capilano, suggested "immediate and severe action" was required in the RCAF's "upper echelon."

"Return trip arrangements must be reviewed to be made safe and dignified," he said. The Comet was forced back shortly after takeoff because of a valve malfunction in an undercarriage door. The party later flew to Anchorage in an RCAF Cosmopolitan freight-passenger plane.

EARLIER PROBLEM

The Comet was the same plane forced to return to Ganer, Nfld., last month with engine trouble while taking Finance Minister Fleming and Trade Minister Hees to Ghana.

The British-made Comet was just 10 minutes out of Vancouver when a red light showed undercarriage door to be improperly closed.

Robarts New Leader Of Ontario Tories

TORONTO (CP)—John Robarts, 44-year-old London lawyer, last night was elected leader of the Ontario Progressive Conservative party in a fight that went right to the sixth and final ballot.

Mr. Robarts was presented to the 1,000 cheering delegates at the 1961 Varsity Arena by Premier Leslie Frost, whose leadership mantle he now wears—what shouted:

MIGHT RESIGN

"Here is your leader and next prime minister of Ontario."

Mr. Frost, mobbed by reporters to comment on a report that he might resign the premiership early next week, said:

"That is a matter I will have to discuss with him. The transition from one administration to another is not a matter of three days—move a matter of 10 days or so."

The leadership contest—in which seven candidates took the field—became a two-way fight from the first ballot between Mr. Robarts, education minister in the Frost cabinet, and Attorney-General Kelso Roberts.

Mr. Robarts' winning total was 976 votes to 633 for the attorney-general.

Radiation Count Soars in Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—The level of radiation has reached the highest peak ever recorded, a University of B.C. physicist said yesterday.

Dr. G. M. Griffiths, who measures beta activity in rainfall, said the level was 15,000 counts a minute yesterday. The highest level he ever recorded was 11,000 counts a minute after U.S. H-bomb tests in the Pacific.

Dr. Griffiths said readings were down to 20 to 40 counts a minute during the summer and rose to 2,000 to 3,000 counts a minute in late September when the Russians began testing.

No Danger From Milk Canada Told

OTTAWA (CP)—Health Minister Monteth in a statement released by his office here yesterday said fallout from Russian nuclear bomb tests has not contaminated Canada's fresh milk supplies.

"In view of public concern about fallout, I want to emphasize that current supplies of fluid milk are safe for human consumption," the minister's statement said.

STOP BIG BOMB APPEAL WINS STRONG UN VOTE

No Cause For Fear —Expert

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. A. H. Zimmerman, chairman of the Defence Research Board, said yesterday there is no real cause for worry in Canada over fallout from current Russian nuclear tests even if the Soviet Union sets off a 50-megaton bomb.

"I don't want to gloss over the seriousness of the matter but as yet there is no real cause for worry in Canada," Dr. Zimmerman said in an interview.

"I am not alarmed personally," Canada's chief defence scientist said. He said all radioactive fallout is "bad" and the situation could become worse if testing continued for a long time.

"But fallout has not yet reached levels where there is need to worry," he said.

Soviet delegate Tsarapkin seen in various poses in the UN yesterday as he tries to block action on H-bomb tests.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The main UN political committee last night overwhelmingly recommended that a "solemn appeal" be sent to the Kremlin to cancel plans for setting off a super nuclear bomb this month.

The 101-nation committee overrode strong Communist objections and filibustering during a daylong debate. The vote was 75-10 with Mali abstaining. Cuba voted with the nine-nation bloc against the resolution.

APPROVAL CERTAIN

The eight-nation resolution urging the appeal to the Kremlin must go to the full Assembly for final action. Approval was regarded as certain in view of last night's overwhelming vote.

P. C. Haekkerup of Denmark, whose country was one of the sponsors of the resolution, asked committee chairman Mario Amadeo to inform Assembly president Mongi Slim of the committee's decision and to recommend top priority action on the resolution.

World reactions to fallout threat—See Page 3

'DEFENSIVE MEASURE'

During the debate, the Soviet Union defended its planned giant explosion as a defensive measure to save the world from nuclear catastrophe.

Soviet delegate Semyon Tsarapkin said that no "Western strategem or manoeuvres" will deter Russia from taking measures to strengthen its defensive capabilities. He said these measures included nuclear tests.

OTHER SPONSORS

The resolution notes that the Assembly, concerned with the question of halting nuclear weapons tests, "solemnly appeals to the government of the Soviet Union to refrain from carrying out their intention to explode in the atmosphere a 50-megaton bomb before the end of this month."

The other sponsors are Canada, Iceland, Iran, Japan, Norway, Pakistan and Sweden.

Tsarapkin denounced the "appeal" resolution as a Western tactic to prevent the Russians from building up their defensive strength.

'WAR MONSTROUS'

Stating that the Western policies threatened to lead to war, Tsarapkin said "a nuclear war will be terrifying, monstrous." He said hundreds of thousands of people and whole countries will perish.

"This is what the Soviet Union is trying to prevent," he said.

Mongolia, Mauritania Win UN Membership

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—The Security Council approved UN membership for Outer Mongolia and Mauritania Wednesday, breaking a deadlock that had endangered Nationalist China's seat in the United Nations.

Death Joins Lovers

GRAND FORKS (CP)—A 23-year-old Prince George man, unable to live without the girl he loved, took his own life, a coroner's inquiry found yesterday.

Greta Hermackin, 20, a Doukhobor girl, who was to have married Donald Morris, died Oct. 1 in a car crash near here.

Morris' body was found in a car here Monday. Police said a note indicated that after the highway accident he had no desire to live. He died of a gunshot wound. Morris asked that he be buried next to Miss Hermackin in the Doukhobor cemetery here.

John Verigin, spiritual leader of the religious sect, said that although the request was unusual it was not the first time a Doukhobor had been buried in a Doukhobor plot.

New Bonds In Demand

OTTAWA (UPI)—Finance Minister Donald Fleming yesterday announced that sales of 1961 series of Canada Savings Bonds in the first 11 business days of the issue were 8.7 per cent higher than in the same period last year.

We're Very Pleased We Won Out—Green

OTTAWA (CP)—Acting Prime Minister Green expressed pleasure Wednesday that a United Nations committee voted over Soviet objections to give priority to a Canadian resolution demanding immediate cancellation of Russia's 50-megaton nuclear bomb blast.

VERY PLEASED

"We're very pleased that we have won out," Mr. Green said in an interview. "We're through the red tape and the procedural debate now."

The external affairs minister, acting prime minister in the absence of Prime Minister Diefenbaker, said new urgency was given to the Canadian resolution by Russia's action early Wednesday in exploding another nuclear device—the 24th one reported—in the Soviet Arctic.

"They said they were undertaking a series of tests ending with a 50-megaton bomb at the

Punch Pays Off

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP)—The Rhodesian who punched G. Mennen Williams, U.S. assistant secretary for African affairs, at Lusaka airport last August has received about $2,000 ($5,800), mainly from Americans, his wife said Wednesday. Stuart Finley-Bissett was fined $50 ($140) Sept. 12 for assaulting Williams.

Keenleyside Hits At Axed Orchards

Mayor At War With Law

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE (CP)—Mayor Lloyd Henderson, angered at what he has described as a "light" sentence given a man who pleaded guilty to indecent assault on Mrs. Henderson, has threatened to "lock the courtroom chambers and have the sheriff move all the magistrate's stuff out" if Magistrate H. D. Sparling is not removed from his post. Mayor Henderson conceded that he could not stop Magistrate Sparling from hearing provincial cases, but claimed he has the power to suspend the magistrate for hearing city cases because the Portage La Prairie council pays the magistrate's salary.

MONTREAL (UPI)—A plea against "Los Angelesization" of the Canadian countryside was made yesterday by Dr. Hugh Keenleyside, chairman of the British Columbia Power Commission, at a workshop session of the Resources for Tomorrow conference.

"Surely Canadian civilization can offer something less appalling than this," Keenleyside said. "The orchards of the Okanagan Valley are being chopped down to make way for housing developments. Is this consistent with increasing requirements for food supplies?"

MAJOR PROBLEM

Keenleyside called for "objective, long-range thinking" on the perspectives and plans for future resource development. He said a major problem was the division of legislative powers between the provinces and the federal government, with no provisions for "resolution of conflicts."

"With the exception of agriculture—which is unique in having a built-in imperative for conflict resolution—jurisdiction for resource development is exclusively assigned either to the federal or provincial governments," he said. This often leads to conflicts.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

VICTORIA'S city fathers are afraid that the government is going to give them the B.C. Electric buses.

They wouldn't mind at all if the government threatened to give them a road, or a bridge, but the idea of a gift fleet of buses throws them into a panic.

But one day the worst may happen. Victoria may look out her door to find a whole parcel of orphan buses there, squalling for gas, service and drivers' wages.

Several members of city council dread this possibility. They are haunted by the nightmare of becoming keepers of a herd of white elephants on wheels.

Would the gift of a bus line really be such a disaster?

We need buses just as much as we need roads and bridges. If the buses are wisely managed, they can help the city grow in a neat and orderly fashion—by channelling people towards the areas that should be developed.

The buses can pay their way manifold in increased tax revenues, even though their books may show a loss.

This will take time. If the provincial government plans to dump the buses on Victoria's (and Vancouver's) doorstep, it should pack a subsidy in the basket as well.

At the same time it might encourage the municipalities of Greater Victoria toward amalgamation or some kind of federal union—and bang their heads gently together if they act too coy about it.

Only a united capital region can plan its future properly for the public good. And only a united capital region (as Aid. Geoffrey Edgelow recently said) can give those orphan buses a good home.

"There's a lot of human energy going to waste," said a welfare worker.

"Most people on unemployment insurance or social assistance would like to do some work, if only for exercise. The average man on relief would be delighted to perform some task that made him feel useful.

"Suppose you said to him: 'There's something you can do to benefit the community, if you feel inclined. Just visit the energy building and put in some time charging the batteries.

"All you have to do is walk up a big moving staircase that turns an electrical generator. You can meet your friends there, spend as much or as little time walking as you please.

"The energy you put out to climb the stairs will be stored in batteries for use later on. The batteries will be installed in electrically driven buses and garbage trucks to serve the town.

"There would be no stigma attached to this kind of work. Not only the unemployed, but businessmen and clerks who were getting out of condition would be invited to spend an hour or two on the moving stairs, walking off their fat.

"The energy bank could become a popular meeting-place. There's only one snag, though," my friend the welfare worker said. "I understand the average man's output of energy for one day would barely be enough to light a small bulb.

"But I think we should find a way to use that energy, for the benefit of the unemployed. They would welcome it, as a relief from boredom. After all, doing nothing is hard work."

Your Good Health

Black-Eyed 'Beauty' Overdoes the Dye

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it harmful to apply cosmetic pencil (eye liner) to the lower inner part, above the lower layer of lashes, on the moist membrane?

When I put it on that area, even though the black liner gets into the eye, I don't feel it. But I notice that if I cough up phlegm in the morning, or if I have a cold or runny nose, I can see strands of this black liner in the mucus.—Benny

Part of the answer lies in the fact you are getting the color into the moist membrane of the eye; the system keeps them that way. Eyes are constantly lubricated with a film of moisture.

So where does this moisture go? Any excess, unless you cry, drains gradually into the nose and then to the throat. You don't feel a "foreign body" in the eye because the dark color is a dye, not a gritty, sharp particle.

I don't know of any reason why the dye would be harmful except to the occasional person who may be allergic to it. But why use so much? I'm not impressed with the "beauty" of eyes that look like the lid of a shoe polish can.

Dear Dr. Molner: I wear a hearing aid. When I yawn, something opens up and I hear all the noises around. Do you think an operation letting sound waves reach the inner ear would help?—G.E.W.

The question isn't as easy as you might think. Obviously your trouble is not due completely to any defect in the nerve.

However, whether one of the various possible ear operations will help depends on where and how the sound waves are being interrupted. Consult an ear surgeon.

Dear Dr. Molner: Are wines fattening? I do not mean sweet wines, but such wines as chablis, sauternes, burgundy, unswart red and white wines.

Should a person who is trying to lose weight avoid wine and beer? What is the correct weight for a woman of 48 with a heavy to medium frame and height of five feet, six inches?—G.F.

Wines, sweet or dry, contain alcohol. The sweet ones contain more sugar but the alcohol itself yields calories. The answer is: for reducing avoid alcohol, including wine and beer.

Charts vary but weight for women of five feet six inches, with shoes on, should range from 130 pounds (medium frame) to 150 (heavy frame).

Oronsay Will Pause Off City Saturday

The 28,000-ton P & O-Orient liner Oronsay will stop briefly off Brochies Ledge about noon Saturday to pick up a pilot and customs, immigration and health officials. She is due to sail from Vancouver at 5 p.m. Sunday and should pass through Juan de Fuca Strait outward bound about 8 p.m.

Vote 'Yes'—Reeve

Reeve George Murdoch of Oak Bay last night urged ratepayers to vote in favor of the school building referendum Saturday.

It is known that income tax is a better source for cost of education than taxation of property, "and I have personally argued many times that each municipal district should stand on its own feet in the matter of service to its people, including schools," said the reeve.

MUST HAVE ROOM

"Nevertheless, after a long discussion with school board officials the Oak Bay council is convinced that we must have the schoolroom accommodation required if the growing number of children in the area are to be properly educated."

SHIFT SYSTEM

"Fifteen schoolrooms of the total number are immediately required for Oak Bay students and unless these are provided the school board will have to resort to a shift system by next September," he said.

Woodward's Shuns City Hall Site

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow's dream of having Woodward Stores Ltd. build on the site of the present city hall is nothing but a dream.

"We have had a real good look at that location and we are not interested," Charles Woodward, president of the company, told the Colonist last night.

"The city hall site would be too small for us to use as a store and we would need a minimum of parking space for 750 cars," he added.

He was commenting on Ald. Edgelow's suggestion that the city should move quickly to "reactivate" a proposal that Woodward's buy the present city hall site.

"If the city does purchase the B.C. Hydro building for a new city hall, then we should be in a position to try immediately to sell the present property so it would go on the tax roll," Ald. Edgelow said.

"I can't think of a better way to do it than reactivate the Woodward deal."

Navy Debates New Subs For Pacific Coast Fleet

Grilse Great Addition Rayner Tells Victoria

By TED SHACKLEFORD

The RCN may obtain more submarines for its operations on the Pacific Coast, its commander said yesterday.

But Vice-Admiral H. S. Rayner, chief of naval staff, refused to commit himself during a press conference in Victoria. He arrived from Ottawa yesterday afternoon for a four-day inspection tour.

"The Grilse has been an unqualified success," he said. "She is a great addition to this command. Having our own submarine means we are able to schedule exercises continually."

"We have been giving a lot of thought to adding another submarine but no decision has been reached yet."

"The RCN has the use of three submarines based at Halifax and the Grilse, based at Esquimalt."

In reply to further questioning, Admiral Rayner added:

"We do need 'live' subs for training. We need more subs than we have for giving the anti-submarine ships and aircraft the practice we think they should have."

Around the Island

'61 Plan to Save Lives in '62

NANAIMO — Greater Nanaimo has taken the first step toward providing lifeguards to protect beaches in the area.

At a meeting held last night a committee was formed to find ways of financing a scheme that would see from five to 10 full-time lifeguards during the summer now in a guard at Departure Bay.

Frank Anzick, who was named chairman of the committee, said about seven lifeguards would be needed and about $3,400 would be necessary to finance the scheme.

The only full-time lifeguard during the summer now is a guard at Departure Bay.

Controversy arose at last night's meeting as to how many lifeguards are needed.

Some delegates suggested guards at Departure Bay and Westwood Lakes would be enough.

Others ran the figure up to 15 guards.

Money will be raised next year by a giant bingo game possibly to be held in exhibition park in the spring. In following years the committee will attempt to get Nanaimo and outside areas to pay 10 cents per resident to meet the cost.

CAMPBELL RIVER — Local branch of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind will end a three-day drive for funds on Saturday.

No target has been set for the drive but chairman Mrs. W. J. Hill said she hopes the proceeds will exceed last year's figure of $1,200.

Area in which the drive will take place includes Sayward on the north and Oyster River to the south. Quadra Island is also included.

COURTENAY — Ald. Mrs. Myrtle Vickberg, director of the B.C. Safety Council, will join the Hon. P. A. Gagliardi and the Hon. Robert Bonner on a safety panel during the council's annual B.C. convention in Vancouver, Nov. 15-17.

Last year Mrs. Vickberg, as a panel member, drew the attention of the whole province to her claim that parents were paying too much attention to TV and other pursuits while children were left unsupervised and exposed to danger.

This year the panel will discuss traffic safety.

PARKSVILLE — The annual general meeting of Parksville and District Community Society will be held Monday, Oct. 30, at the community hall at 8 p.m.

The society administers the affairs of the community park and hall, and a good turnout of members and interested residents is sought.

GANGES — Salt Spring Island Sea Scouts are the proud owners of two seaworthy lifeboats and now require only orlocks and life preservers before taking to the high seas.

The lifeboats were presented to the group by Nelson Bros. Co. of Vancouver, and a Tacoma firm, Foss Tug and Barge Company, presented the oars.

Local firms have so far donated paint and docking space. The group recently raised $100 from the sale of bottles collected in a house-to-house canvass.

CAMPBELL RIVER — Campbell River and District Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual meeting and election of officers at 6:30 tonight at the Willows Hotel.

Courtesy director of the B.C. Chamber of Commerce, Cliff Laver, will install new officers at the meeting.

DUNCAN — Plans for expansion of the Crofton pulp mill to newsprint production, and the impact of such industrial activity on the economy of the city and district will be explained by John R. W. Griev, general manager of Crofton pulp mill, at a meeting of all local service clubs in the Crofton mill cafeteria on Nov. 1 at 6:30 p.m.

FULFORD — A loading apron which slipped off a truck was leaving Mv. Delta Princess here yesterday caused the ferry to miss its last scheduled trip at 3 p.m.

Passengers normally taking the 3 p.m. ferry to Fulford were taken to Ganges aboard Mv. Motor Princess on the 5 p.m. trip.

A spokesman for the ferry service said last night that regular service would resume again today.

The truck was not damaged.

NANAIMO — Two men are left in the running for the post of Vancouver Island regional librarian to succeed W. R. Taggart, who resigned last month.

Regional library chairman George Darling says a choice will be made between the two unnamed men after they are interviewed next week.

DUNCAN — Local chamber of commerce will sponsor a window display contest marked by the winter employment campaign committee, directors of the chamber decided yesterday.

The contest will be carried out by business houses of this city to promote education of unskilled laborers and to ease unemployment.

DUNCAN — Northern entrance to Duncan at the junction of the Trans-Canada Highway, Canada Ave. and Sherman Road will be illuminated if North Cowichan council consents to pay one third of the cost.

Department of highways officials told the chamber of commerce they would bear two-thirds of the total cost.

LADYSMITH — The little theatre group here will host the mid-island drama festival in March of next year.

This spring the group was unable to get permission from the Ladysmith school board to use the high school auditorium.

The action on the part of the board caused a storm of controversy in the mid-island area.

This week the board gave tentative permission to the little theatre to hold the festival.

DUNCAN — Driving a motor vehicle with only a learner's licence and not accompanied by an adult holding a valid licence cost Lois Louise Lowe, of Hillcrest Road, $10 in police court.

DUNCAN — Margaret Crozier, Victoria, paid a fine of $20 in police court for exceeding the speed limit in a 30-m.p.h. zone.

PORT ALBERNI — Jaycee president Ron Andrew said he hopes at least 200 boys and girls of the Alberni Valley will turn up Sunday for the bicycle safety rodeo being sponsored by the junior chamber.

Under chairmanship of Jim Fisher, the rodeo committee has planned a check of bicycles, a riding test and application of reflector tape, free of charge, to all bicycles entered in the event.

The riding tests will include ability of the youngsters to weave in and out on a slaked course, stopping and slow speed balancing.

This year's event will be the first of its kind sponsored by local Jaycees.

The event will get underway at 10 a.m.

NANAIMO — Nanaimo MP W. F. "Bus" Mathews says the city's lumber assembly dock is adequate for present needs.

The member of parliament pointed out "already more than a million dollars has been spent in renovating present facilities."

He said there is not enough shipping coming to the city to warrant any extension of facilities.

DUNCAN — Margaret Crozier, Victoria, paid a fine of $20 in police court for exceeding the speed limit in a 30-m.p.h. zone.

DUNCAN — Driving a motor vehicle with only a learner's licence and not accompanied by an adult holding a valid licence cost Lois Louise Lowe, of Hillcrest Road, $10 in police court.

Woman Doctor on Board

Body and Soul Care Provided at Gallop

By TED PULFORD

Out in the tall country around Alert Bay, the wilderness characters have a soft spot in their hearts for a tiny woman doctor, weighing in at about 90 pounds complete with stethoscope, who sails the area on board the Anglican Church's Mv. Columbia.

Joyce Davies, M.D., might send the public relations men from a great medical clinic rushing for their tranquillizers, but she's too busy patching people up to concern herself with such questions as whether soft lights in the waiting room relax patients or how to make someone pay his bill.

And that seems to suit Dr. Davies to a "T."

From 10 a.m. to noon and from 2 to 5 p.m. today and tomorrow, members of the Anglican Church will be on hand to escort the public through the Columbia as it lies at anchor in the Inner Harbor.

Members of the church junior auxiliary and Sunday school children will visit the ship Saturday.

ache, a man with an infected cut, a pregnant woman who has already had more babies than are good for her.

But however ordinary it may be, Columbia's service is a vital one, filled with opportunities for helping people in the business of everyday living.

Dr. Davies does everything at a gallop and a visitor to the Columbia might easily confuse the sneakered and blue-jeaned medic with a touring teenager.

Even so, it's a safe bet that the 200-odd ailing lumberjacks, trappers, fishermen and Indians she examines, injects, catolases and punnels on every trip don't see her that way at all.

TINY HEALER

What brought this diminutive healer from a private practice in Great Britain to the tiny office on board the floating mission ship Columbia?

Being a complex person, she probably has no simple answer but her deep interest in new experience is probably at the bottom of it all.

PORT OF CALL

She relates all of the 130-odd ports of call on the Columbia's itinerary directly to the people she finds there.

Talking about the work of the Columbia, which adopts the approach that a man's body must be ministered to at the same time as the soul, Dr. Davies lays stress upon what might be considered merely routine.

FIRESIDE TALEN

Though she and her co-workers occasionally collide with dramatic experiences which make great fireside tales later, the steady performance of a great many routine tasks is the Columbia's reason for sailing the inland water around Alter Bay.

For Dr. Davies, the day's work is a baby with boils, an old woman with a stomach

West Coast Rescue

Tug Crew, 'Copter Save Injured Sailor

Swim Ends In Pen

ALBERNI—Nelson Joseph, 21, was sentenced to two-and-a-half years in the penitentiary when he was convicted on a charge of breaking and entering Riverview Service Station.

The young man was apprehended last week after he jumped or fell into Soanias River as police pursued him.

The accused apparently swam down the river in his attempt to elude police.

He was picked up later on Beaver Creek Road.

Joseph had several previous convictions. He pleaded not guilty to the charge.

TOFINO—A member of the crew of the Vancouver tug J. S. Foley, injured when struck by a tow line, was picked up by an RCAF helicopter today and flown to hospital here.

BROKEN HIP

The seaman, whose identity was not immediately available, suffered a broken hip and other injuries when struck by the cable and knocked into the water as the tug was off the west coast of the island.

He was in the water for about 10 minutes before being saved by fellow crew members.

A medical team was sent from the RCAF base at Vancouver by air sea rescue aboard an Albatross aircraft, but the water was too rough for the plane to land near the heaving tug.

Search and rescue officials said the helicopter was at Tofino awaiting improved weather to evacuate a ground party which has been checking wreckage of a United States navy plane that had crashed in the area during the Second World War.

Two-Year Term Courtenay Theft Puts One in Pen

NANAIMO—A Victoria man has been found guilty of breaking into a Courtenay clothing store.

Judge Arnold Hanna, sitting in Nanaimo County Court, rejected Robert Hadfield White's contention that he has "never been in Courtenay."

He sentenced White to two years in the B.C. penitentiary after finding him guilty of breaking into Rickson's Men's Wear last February.

Clothing valued at $2,500 was taken from the store.

Police stated at the trial yesterday they found clothing from Rickson's store in White's Victoria apartment, 1030 Bay.

Judge Hanna said, "I am satisfied the clothing came from this store and I am also satisfied that White took part in the crime."

Charles Westrand of Vancouver is serving a sentence in Haney Correctional Institute for the same crime.

Judge Hanna said, "I believe there was more than one man involved in this break-in."

Chamber Taxes Co-Op Affection

DUNCAN—The chamber of commerce and the Cowichan Creamery Association may end up at loggerheads over the latter's membership in the former.

The reason—the Canadian Chamber of Commerce is currently sponsoring a resolution designed to subject co-operatives to the same form of taxation imposed on private businesses.

The dairy co-operative's letter pointed out that its officers do not think the local chamber is supporting the taxation measure but asked for clarification of its stand.

Some chamber directors felt that because co-operatives deal with the general public as well as members they probably should face corporation taxes.

They emphasized, however, that the chamber is primarily concerned with working towards the betterment of the local community.

Changes Set For DC-8s

WASHINGTON (CP)—The U.S. Federal Aviation Agency and Douglas Aircraft, manufacturer of the DC-8s, have agreed to sweeping changes in the jet passenger planes following what FAA chief Nabeeb Halaby called a series of malfunctions.

Thieves Strike Again Get $4,000 at Tofino

TOFINO—Police in this tiny West Coast community are probing the second multi-thousand-dollar theft in as many weeks. Thieves Tuesday broke into McCallum's Fish Camp offices and stole $4,000. Two weeks ago some $3,000 in cash and merchandise was stolen from a general store.

Fire Vote Forecast

ALBERNI—Because opinions expressed at a general meeting were not overwhelmingly in favor of plans for a fire department, Cherry Creek Improvement district ratepayers will probably vote on the issue.

Charles Haggard, chairman of the district trustees, said that although their letter-patent permit the board to go ahead with the project without holding a plebiscite, the opposition expressed at the meeting is being taken into consideration.

A letter will go to the water controller asking his advice on the matter of holding a referendum vote.

With close to 80 present at the meeting, 38 signified that they were in favor of the project which would involve a loan of $41,000.

Twenty-one voted in the negative and the remainder abstained from voting, Mr. Haggard said.
